

ASK STATE CONCLAVE ON DEPRESSION

Beat Raskob Plan, Sheppard Urges

WOULD IGNORE DRY ISSUE TO BATTLE GREED

Asks All Democrats to Join Hands to Overthrow "Rapacity"

OTHERS JOIN DEBATE

Statements by Smith and Cox Quieting Influence at Heated Session

Emporia, Kas. —(AP)— Revolt of southern and western Democrats if their party adopts a wet platform was predicted today by Dr. Clarence True Wilson, secretary of the board of prohibition, temperance and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church.

"We American people are not for sale," he told ministers and laymen at the state conference of the Methodist church.

Washington —(AP)— An appeal for all Democrats, wet or dry, to unite in a movement to defeat the suggestion of Chairman Raskob for a party platform proposing state control of liquor was issued today by Senator Sheppard of Texas, a dry leader.

Sheppard issued his appeal in a formal statement after Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, asserted that Raskob had "lined up" on economic issues "with the extreme standpoint of the Republican party."

The Texan, characterizing the program which Raskob named "the home rule plan" as "wet," urged the Democratic party to devote itself to "the overthrow of rapacity, monopoly and greed."

"The discussion which occurred at the recent meeting of the Democratic national committee when Raskob proposed his wet plank is but a feeble foretaste of what will happen if he succeeds in securing the recommendations he desires," Sheppard said.

"Raskob has announced his intention to call at some later date for a vote by the national Democratic committee on his recommendation for a wet plank in the next national Democratic platform."

"I appeal to all Democrats, wet or dry, to unite in a movement to defeat this suggestion in order that our party may devote its undivided energies to the overthrow of rapacity, monopoly and greed in this republic. Such an overthrow is the supreme mission of the Democratic party."

Asserting prohibition is not a "party question," Senator Glass of Virginia said today it would be fatal for either party to attempt to make it one.

On the crest of furious storm which shook the meeting of the Democratic national committee, Chairman Raskob yesterday threw down the prohibition gauntlet, calling upon the party to espouse a plan of state liquor control.

Taps Sounded At Grave Of Rep. Cooper

Racine —(AP)— The body of the late Representative Henry Allen Cooper, Wisconsin's venerable legislator and dean of the house, rested today in a grave on a knoll in Mound cemetery here.

Headed by Gov. Phil LaFollette and other state, county and city officials, citizens of the state he served 38 years as congressman met at Mr. Cooper's bier yesterday to pay him honor.

While taps sounded and throngs stood with bared heads, the body was lowered into the flower-banked grave. Official Washington was represented at the simple services, conducted by the Rev. Harding R. Hogan, by a delegation of senators and representatives.

The funeral was one of the largest in Wisconsin since the death of the late Senator Robert M. LaFollette, close personal friend of Mr. Cooper.

Thousands of persons passed the casket in tribute as the body lay in state in the memorial hall. Floral pieces from the entire nation rested beside the casket. There was one from President and Mrs. Hoover and another from the Philippine islands.

A message received from Manuel L. Quezon, president of the Philippine senate read:

"Filipinos profoundly mourn the death of Congressman Cooper. He was a constant advocate and defender of the liberties of our people."

Representative Cooper at one time led a house committee on insular affairs in a fight for establishment of Filipino liberty regarding local legislation.

Governor LaFollette visited with Mrs. Cooper, immediately after arrival of the funeral train. She was accompanied by her late husband's sister, Mrs. Carrie Watts-Johnson of Denver, Colo., throughout the services.

Federal Action Started to Collect $120,000 in Unpaid Income Taxes

ACCUSED YOUTH TAKES STAND IN SLAYING TRIAL

Kirkland Testifies About Romance and Tragedy in Draves Girl's Death

Valparaiso, Ind. —(AP)— Virgil Kirkland, his voice at times shaken by sobs, today testified to his romance with Arlene Draves that tragically terminated in her death last November during a Gary drinking party.

Kirkland, on trial for the 18-year-old Gary girl's murder, accounted for all the incidents upon which the state basis its allegations.

Kirkland said he was born at Taskee, Mo., and that three months later his father died. For six years his mother supported her family by taking in washings in the small town in Wayne-co.

Avid court room fans that edged beyond the section intended for spectators twice interrupted proceedings by laughing. A rebuke and warning by the judge, Grant Crumacker, that he would clear the chamber, silenced them.

Kirkland admitted to voluntary relationship with the girl at the fatal party. He, however, avowed his love for her and desire to marry her. Following a party two weeks before the girl's death, Kirkland said he and Arlene drove to Valparaiso intending to be married. The girl changed her mind, because her father thought she was too young to wed, he said.

Dry-eyed the Draves sisters, brothers and father heard Kirkland's story and only once did the boy's mother give way to her emotions.

Prosecutor John Underwood brought out on cross-examination that Kirkland's father's name was Kopper.

Fences With Prosecutor

"I ask if you weren't expelled from Horace Mann high school?" Underwood asked and a burst of objection came from the defense table. The prosecutor withdrew the question.

Kirkland fenced with Underwood over the details of his claimed engagement and intended marriage.

At one time Underwood was questioned by the witness when the prosecutor asked if Kirkland knew there was to be liquor at the Nov. 20 gathering.

Resignation O. K.

ALEXANDER P. LEGGE

Hoover O. K. Given Legge Resignation

Washington —(AP)— President Hoover has accepted the resignation of Alexander P. Legge as chairman of the farm board.

Mr. Hoover plans to make a formal announcement later in the day. It could not be learned whether he would announce Legge's successor then.

Vice Chairman Stone has been often mentioned as the next chairman. Legge sent his resignation to the White House nearly two weeks ago. President Hoover is understood to have attempted to persuade him to remain another year.

Yesterday Legge conferred with President Hoover for more than an hour.

The resignation creates the first of four vacancies expected soon on the farm board.

C. C. Teague, representing fruits and vegetables, has an understanding with the president that he may retire as soon as his office affairs are in shape. His term expired last June and he accepted reappointment on condition he be permitted to return to his extensive fruit and nut interests in California about the middle of 1931.

JURORS STILL OUT IN BENNETT TRIAL

VOTE BUILDING FOR INSTITUTE OF CHEMISTRY

Call for Bids, Returnable March 16, Authorized by Trustees

Authorization of a call for bids to construct a new building to house the Institute of Paper Chemistry was voted Wednesday by trustees of the Institute. It was announced today by Dr. Henry M. Wriston, director of the Institute and president of Lawrence college. Bids must be returned by March 16 and the building must be completed in time for occupancy next September. The cost of construction will be met entirely by gifts. The building will be erected on E. South River, on the South campus.

Partial specifications, made public in President Wriston's announcement, indicate a building 114 feet by 50 feet with two wings attached, one 50 feet deep and the other 63 feet deep. The exact site will be south and opposite the new Alexander gymnasium and slightly to the east, facing E. South River-st.

The building will contain complete equipment for carrying on the threefold purpose for which the graduate school was founded, namely: to train graduate students in pulp and paper chemistry; to conduct research in special problems peculiar to paper manufacturing; and to offer a library service unexcelled for research and reference to both students and supporting mills.

Plan Digester Room

To this end the building plans to provide a digester room 30 by 80 feet with an entire wing devoted to laboratory space, namely: to house the collection of materials now compiled at the Institute library and considered of the finest and most complete body of technical literature on paper chemistry in the United States; special laboratories for paper testing, another for research, one for organic chemistry and one for colloid chemistry. In addition office space will be provided for the director, technical director, librarian and other academic officers as well as for general offices of the Institute.

Work on preliminary plans and specifications has been in progress since last fall, when it became evident that the present quarters in the new Alexander gymnasium were already inadequate. After less than a year of operation the board of trustees has authorized completion of final plans and specifications, so that the bids could be called for and the contracts awarded. Trustees of the Institute participating in the action include Ernest Mahler, Neenah, president; C. C. Everest, Rothschild, vice president; Monroe A. Wertheimer, Kaukauna, Dan H. Brown, Neenah; I. M. Alexander, Port Edwards and Hugh Strange, Neenah. Officers of the Paper Chemistry Institute are Henry M. Wriston, director; Westbrook Steele, Appleton, executive secretary; and Ralph J. Watts, Appleton, treasurer.

HOOVER PLANS TO PAY BRIEF VISIT TO SON

Washington —(AP)— Freed from the heavy cares of the congressional season, President Hoover is planning a brief visit with his convalescent son in Asheville, N. C.

If he can leave Saturday night as he plans, the chief executive will see Herbert Hoover Jr., on Sunday for the first time since the latter forsook the Rapidan camp for the Carolina resort last fall. Mrs. Hoover probably will accompany him. She has been down once before.

The younger Hoover is making good progress toward recovery of his health.

The visit planned will give Mr. Hoover only one day in Asheville, for he would leave late Sunday to be at his desk as usual Monday morning. The whole plan is contingent on the clearing up of a mass of work piled up on the president's desk during the last days of Congress. In addition to other affairs, he was left something like 400 bills to sign.

SAYS DONAGHEY FOR BLACK TOP ROAD MATERIAL

Donahue Testifies at Assembly Quiz About Former Chairman's Views

Madison —(AP)— More extensive use of "black top" road materials had been urged at various times by John Donahue, former chairman of the state highway commission, Jerry Donahue, present chairman, told an assembly committee investigating the commission's activities last night.

At one meeting with the former chairman, Donahue said, Donahue said his "friend in the legislature" would recommend use of bituminous material even if the highway commission opposed it.

"I considered that statement a mere jest," Donahue testified, "and paid no further attention to it."

"Did you ever come across information that if members of the commission did not do such and such a thing they would get it politically?" asked Assemblyman D. M. Langve, Westby, chairman of the committee and sponsor of the resolution asking the investigation.

"I have heard such rumors," Donahue replied. "Mr. Donahue said since the governor intimated in his message to the legislature that bituminous material is favored, it should be used more extensively. He indicated a strong criticism of the commission for not carrying out the bituminous material program but I told him we should go slow in recommending bituminous material about which we knew little."

Interested in Cement Bids

The committee also learned that Donahue was interested in the allocation of cement contracts. Assemblyman J. W. Carow, Ladysmith, asked the witness whether Donahue interposed in the cement contracts last year.

"Ed Kelley, chairman of the tax commission, came to me and said that any considerations of the cement company would be pre-empted by Mr. Donahue," Donahue said.

Langve asked Donahue if the bids submitted by various cement companies in 1930 were similar.

"Yes," answered the witness. "I told that happen."

"The manufacturers evidently fix a certain base price and then fix the cost of shipment to the product's destination," Donahue told the committee that about 10 companies were given cement contracts in 1930. The contracts were awarded on the concern's ability to deliver and the concern's record in Wisconsin. At the suggestion of Mr. Carow, the witness said the bulk of the contracts went to the Universal, Atlas, Manitowish, Medusa, Marquette and Petoskey cement companies.

Auburn Auto Leads Break On Exchange

New York —(AP)— Wide open breaks in two recent violent rises opened the way for the bears in today's stock market and the entire list gave way during the afternoon. Auburn Auto tumbled $16. Mullins Manufacturing lost more than $7. Issues declining about $2 to $6 included United States Steel, Bethlehem, Westinghouse Electric, American Waterworks, American Telephone and J. I. Case.

The oil shares drew heavy selling during the afternoon, and Standard of New Jersey dropped about $2 to a new low for 1931, within striking distance of its last year's minimum. Texas Corporation also lost $2. Liquidation in this group was augmented by this week's reductions in crude oil prices and to disappointment in some quarters that congress failed to act to restrict imports.

The break in Auburn may have been in part a response to an unconfirmed published report that the State Securities bureau was inquiring into its rise from a January minimum of $101.50 to a recent peak of $217.50. Mullins had also a rise, starting from a January minimum of $53.37 and touching a peak this week of $55.75. The market was regarded as a wedge between professional bulls and bears, although selling developed considerable volume by afternoon.

BANK ROBBER GETS LONG PRISON TERM

Stanley Ford, Mt. Horeb Bandit, Sentenced 25 to 40 Years

Madison —(AP)— At an unexpected session of superior court this noon, Stanley Ford, 32, Chicago, was sentenced to the state prison for a term of 25 to 40 years for robbery of the Mt. Horeb Bank last October.

It was learned that the surprise session was held to circumvent any attempt to request a retrial. Chicago detectives who testified during the trial said they had seen four Chicago hoodlums here this week and it was feared they would attempt to take Ford from the sheriff's custody. Judge S. B. Schein effected sudden sentence by leaving the courtroom, ostensibly to continue the session later in the day and then returning a short time later. The spectators, believing the judge would return this afternoon to take under advisement motions by the defense attorney, also left the courtroom.

Ford was convicted as one of the men who forced office employees and customers of the Mt. Horeb bank to lie on the floor while the drawers were ransacked of more than $20,000 in cash and securities. The securities were later found in Ford's possession but he said he had received them from Francis Farley, a Chicago bandit who was recently killed by Minneapolis police.

MIDDLE WEST REGION BLANKETED BY SNOW

Springfield, Ill. —(AP)— Snow has laid a narrow belt of white ranging from 4 to 6 inches deep, from central Illinois to Nebraska. Clarence Root, director of the Springfield Weather Bureau, said today. A downfall of either rain, sleet or snow would continue, he added, until tomorrow forenoon.

Andrew C. Bennett, federal agricultural statistician, here declared farmers should be jubilant over the snow. "We have been deficient in moisture since last May," he said. "This is a wet snow. It will soak in and help, especially the winter wheat. Coming at this particular time it is very beneficial."

BADGER SENATE URGES PHIL TO CALL MEETING

Upper House Adopts Fords Resolution and Sends It to Assembly

WOULD DISCUSS RELIEF

Schmiege Resolution on New Penal Institution Approved by Senate

Madison —(AP)— By means of a joint resolution, the senate today asked the governor to call a statewide conference to discuss the industrial and agricultural depression.

Sen. Leonard Fords, Milwaukee, introduced the measure and it was adopted by the senate without a dissenting vote. It was then messaged to the assembly. Sen. Fords declared that conditions in agriculture and industry at the present time made imperative some action.

Under Sen. Fords' resolution, the governor would call into conference leaders of agriculture and labor and economic experts who would devise some plan for relieving present conditions and prepare a program of unemployment insurance for the future.

The senate worked into Tuesday's calendar, engrossing a score or more of bills before adjourning until Monday night. Sen. Walter Hunt's motion to adjourn until Monday night rather than to the usual time of 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, again brought to the fore the Progressives' determination to keep the senate's business moving at top speed.

Two assembly resolutions found concurrence in the senate but a third was voted down. One of the resolutions in which the senate concurred was one to amend the constitution as to provide for 10-year terms for federal judges rather than life terms. Assemblyman Oscar Schmieg's resolution asking an investigation of the feasibility of constructing a new penal institution for lessor offenders was concurred in and sent to the joint finance committee.

Assemblyman Edward Klefer's resolution, asking a special session of congress to discuss drought relief and unemployment failed of concurrence.

Kill Student Fee Bill

Sen. Hunt's bill to wipe out the fee paid by students for their first teaching certificate was killed by the senate.

The Polakowski bill providing for a parole system for inmates of the Central State Hospital for the Insane advanced when the senate ordered its engrossment. Engrossment was also voted for Sen. Walter Rusk's bill which permits additional assessments and correction of assessments of income taxes within six years after the tax return.

Among other measures engrossed today were bills by:

By Smith—Limiting the annual expense, exclusive of investment expense, taxes, and fees, of mutual insurance companies, including health and accident companies, to 50 per cent of the premiums and assessments collected during the year.

By Shearer—Limiting temporary borrowings by counties to 50 per cent of last tax levy for county purposes.

By Smith—Removing the $3,500 a year limitation on the salary of the governor's appointee to the compensation insurance board.

By Polakowski—Removing the limitation of $10,000 which cities of the first class may appropriate for Fourth of July celebrations.

Among the assembly bills ordered to a third reading by the senate was the Goff measure to provide a penalty for misrepresentation of the financial standing of cooperative organizations and the Kellman bill conferring civil and criminal jurisdiction on the Trempealeau-co court.

O. K. Carow Resolution

In a session running well past the noon hour, the assembly engrossed the Carow resolution permitting municipalities to bond themselves for more than 5 per cent of their assessed valuation for the acquisition of utility properties.

Under its provisions the electorate will decide at referendum whether the 5 per cent debt limitation should be raised by amending the constitution. The resolution was adopted by the 1929 legislature and it occurred in by the present senate will go to a referendum in 1932.

By a vote of 50 to 31 the assembly killed a bill by Assemblyman Charles A. Budlong, Marinette, providing that municipalities which take over utility properties shall pay two-thirds of the taxes now being paid by private owners of the utility plants.

Defending his bill, Assemblyman Budlong declared that if the power program is put into effect without enacting his bill "it will bankrupt my county." He pointed out that his county is receiving about $100,000 per year in taxes on large dams and utility properties in the county, and that if those taxes are withdrawn from the county by public acquisition of the properties by the state "you'll close our schools and leave us with no salvation."

Report Al Smith To Fight 'Pussyfooting' On Dry Law

New York —(AP)— The New York Evening Post said today it had learned from a reliable source that former Gov. Alfred E. Smith will fight the presidential candidacy of his old friend, Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, if Roosevelt "pussyfooted on prohibition."

Governor Roosevelt, the story continued, is not anxious to commit himself further on prohibition, an attitude which the Smith supporters regard as a bid to the southern states for support. Roosevelt ran for governor as a wet.

Report Al Smith To Fight 'Pussyfooting' On Dry Law

The friendship between Smith and Roosevelt, has long been celebrated in Democratic circles. Three times Roosevelt nominated Smith for president and it was generally conceded in 1928, that he ran for governor of New York at Smith's request, in order that he might aid support to his friend on election day and carry out his policies while in office.

"Although there have been many rumors—the usual political rumors—about a personal breach between Mr. Smith and Mr. Roosevelt, none exists," the Post stated.

"Those who are in a position to watch the reactions of Mr. Roosevelt say that he has very definitely served word upon New York state that he is the head of the Democratic party here and not Mr. Smith. His entire course of action has been an independent one."

PLEADS FOR UNITED G. O. P. IN MICHIGAN

Kalamazoo, Mich. —(AP)— A plea for a united party under the leadership of Gov. Wilbur M. Brucker was the keynote sounded by Paul Woodworth, of Bad Axe, temporary chairman of the Republican state convention here today.

"Our internal troubles are on the wane," he declared. "Our new chief executive stands with malice toward none and charity toward all. He does not seek to dominate, but rather to cement party ties. This means a united and triumphant Republican party. We look forward to the spring election with unlimited confidence and to 1932 with the determination that nothing shall sway the record of rock-ribbed Republican Michigan."

BUCKLEY RECEIVED DEATH THREAT, CLAIM

Detroit —(AP)— Testimony that Gerald E. Buckley was threatened with "a long ride" if he went on the air with a radio speech in favor of the recall of former Mayor Charles Bowles was given in recorder's court today by Miss Evelyn O'Hara, the announcer's former secretary.

This statement furnished the high spot in the evidence of Miss O'Hara at the trial of Ted Pizzino, Joe Bonmarito and Angelo Livacchi, indicted for the slaying.

FOUR MEN BOUND OVER ON DRY LAW CHARGES

Green Bay —(AP)— Four men charged with violating the prohibition laws were bound over to federal court for trial at preliminary hearings today before United States Commissioner John F. Watermolen. Peter Janos, Joseph Ball, Joseph Murich, arrested in a raid yesterday in Marinette-co, and Frank Gavoroski, arrested in Florence-co, were ordered confined to the Milwaukee Jail in default of bond. Janos, Keco and Murich pleaded guilty but Gavoroski declined to enter a plea.

Complete Independence From Britain, Mahatma Gandhi's Aim

SAYS EQUALITY ONLY BASIS FOR FUTURE EMPIRE

Independence to Be Achieved Under Common Flag, Not British Flag

New Delhi, India.—(P)—Complete independence—what the Indian calls "gandhi swaraj"—is Mahatma Gandhi's goal in his dealings with Great Britain, he told newspaper correspondents today.

His plan for complete self-government with "disciplined rule from within" makes it possible for India to remain within the British empire, he said, "but our partnership with England must be on terms of absolute equality."

"Some of my associates believe British statesmen will never reconcile themselves to absolute equality for India," he said. "I may be a visionary but I hold differently. I see the day when New Delhi and not Downing-street will be the center of the Indian nation."

"When we achieve independence it will not be under the British flag but under a common flag. As a visionary I see the day when there will be no armies, but it will not come during my lifetime. It may take ages before even the Indian nation accommodates itself to having no army."

"I fear no invasion by the Bolsheviks. If they are trying to establish a revolution in India that presupposes that the Indian people are more gullible than they really are. Insofar as there is good in Bolshevism, as I think there is, India will need no invasion by the Soviets to convert here."

Will Work For Goal

Gandhi said he hoped the first part of the new round table conference would be held in India and the second part in London reiterating that the Nationalists will press for complete independence during its sessions.

The proposed safeguards respecting defense and finance under the constitutional plan suggested at the last conference are unacceptable to the Nationalists in their present form, he said. A safeguard regarding minorities is necessary and reasonable, he agreed, as well as safeguards to protect India's credit and commercial expansion.

The Mahatma opposes repudiation of any part of the Indian national debt, he said, but his party insists that only just obligations of any nature shall be imposed upon the Indian government.

"If there is no mutual adjustment," he said, "these obligations must be referred to arbitration. The league of nations could adjust such differences, but I doubt whether England

MAYOR SEES EARLY IMPROVEMENT IN WORK SITUATION

Although the unemployment situation at the present time is quite as serious as it was all winter, Mayor John Goodland, Jr., is of the opinion that the silver lining in the cloud should begin to show toward the end of the month.

"As soon as the weather breaks, there will be a change for the good," he said this morning. "The first heavy breeze of spring will bring the opening of construction work, which will mean relief to scores of men."

According to W. L. Lyons, poor commissioner, the Wisconsin Michigan Power company intends to begin laying gas mains as soon as the ground is sufficiently thawed. He also states that one man has a contract for four houses, which he will start building as soon as the weather permits.

RULING ISSUED ON BANK LOANS TO VETS

Waive Collection Rights on Old Paper Where New Funds Are Issued

Washington.—(P)—Banks increasing loans to veterans from the 22 per cent of the old law to the present 50 per cent of certificates' face value, waive their collection rights on the old paper.

The veterans bureau decided today a bank could not issue a new note for half the certificate's value, covering an old loan, and present it immediately for collection.

Bureau officials explained the regulation requiring banks to hold the notes for six months before submitting them for collection remains in force. The combined loans in a new note are considered as a new loan, eligible for collection six months after issuance.

The Federal Reserve board has advised Administrator Hines that simplified instructions have been issued to member banks to expedite handling loans.

The board said loans would remain eligible for discounting, under the old law which provided they should be treated as any other commercial paper, although the new 4 1/2 interest rate is lower than the majority of negotiable banking credits.

BUILD ADDITION

John Helm, a grocer on W. Wisconsin-ave., is building a large addition to his business place. The work will be completed in about two or three weeks.

He was willing to refer the matter to the league. "I am confident that India's complete independence is coming as sure as God and the sun are in the heavens."

WHY EARTH SHIVERS IS EXPLAINED BY U. S. SCIENTISTS

Washington.—(P)—Washington scientists say severe "shivering" of the earth's crust, registered yesterday on seismographs at Harvard and Georgetown universities, probably was caused by low barometric pressure off the Atlantic coast.

The shivering, known as a microseism storm, has been noted for several days at Georgetown, said Father Bohon, in charge of the seismograph station there.

His theory is that the low pressure area accompanying the recent storm off the Atlantic coast, caused tremors in the continental shelf, which extends about 200 miles off shore. These were transmitted inland.

Captain N. H. Heck of the coast and geodetic survey also believes the low pressure area in some way caused the tremors. Such tremors may sometimes "set off" earthquakes that are "ready to start," he said.

During the World war when Germany had no weather reports from the North Sea, approach of low pressure areas from that section was detected by noting microseisms on German seismographs, Captain Heck said.

Sectional view showing Eton Universal, fully equipped with Insulated Oven, Automatic Oven Heat Control and In-A-Drawer Service and Broiling Compartments.

THE Eton Universal is a range of superb beauty—a beauty that is irresistibly appealing and refreshingly new.

Beauty, however, is but one of the many points of superiority of this remarkable range. Automatic maintenance of oven heat—insulated heat retention oven and In-A-Drawer Broiler and Service Compartments are but a few of the numerous modern conveniences the Eton offers.

The Eton Universal combines to a degree hitherto unapproached in any range—unusual beauty—outstanding quality—and a service performance exceptional for its efficiency, convenience and economy.

The most sensational factor in connection with the Eton Universal is value. At the amazing low price of $84.50, it gives greater value per dollar of cost than any gas range ever before offered the American public.

ONLY 4 DAYS LEFT TO ENTER ORATORY MEET

Cash Prizes Totaling $100 Will Be Awarded to Winners of Contest

Only four more days are left before the closing date, March 10, of the Appleton Post-Crescent Oratory contest, at which time all entrants' names must be in the hands of the contest manager.

Contestants will choose a subject relating to the Constitution of the United States. Three things must be taken into consideration in the speeches. They must be original, they must not exceed more than six minutes for delivery, and all quotations must be mentioned in the speech as well as in the manuscript.

Failure to stop when the time-keepers have called the time limit will automatically place the contestant in last place. He will be disqualified if quotations are not credited to the author.

The date for the Appleton final has been set for April 11. Three judges are yet to be chosen for the contest. They will be persons capable of judging public speaking and in no way connected with competing schools.

Any high school student who was not older than 19 on Feb. 1, 1931, may enter in the contest whether he lives in Appleton or not. The winner of the local contest will be sent to Madison for the state finals, April 24. Local prizes will be offered for the first four places. Fifty dollars will be given first place, $25 second place, $15 for third place, and $10 for fourth.

The contest will be carried into sectional semi-finals where state winners will meet to compete. Winners of these contests will travel to Europe at the expense of the National Editorial association. These winners will also be sent to Washington to compete in the national contest to be held in the Capitol city some time in May.

Posse Chases Bandit Quartet Across Florida

FOUR OFFICERS INJURED DURING WILD STRUGGLE

Possemen Believe Two Bandits and Women Companions Now Afoot

Milton, Fla. — (P)—Four bandits who crossed western Florida yesterday and last night were captured in a swamp near Mulat, Fla., shortly before noon today.

The quartet, two men and two women, were brought to the jail here by Chief Deputy Sheriff W. H. Cobb and a posse of more than 230 men.

They gave their names as Dex Hayes, Bert Olesky, Mabel Wertz, and Fay Harris. The bandits were armed with three revolvers.

Pensacola, Fla. — (P)—More than 100 heavily armed possemen patrolled the outskirts of the little gulf coast village of Mulat, near here, today in search of two bandits and their women companions who have been blamed a trail of blood and motor thefts across north Florida.

In one of yesterday's skirmishes with pursuing officers, one of the women stood beside her men companions exchanging shots with possemen, and wounds were inflicted on both sides. Since the chase started three officers have been shot and one clubbed.

Officers said today that they believed the quartet was now afoot and about the end of their resistance. This was indicated by the finding of an abandoned automobile, containing a man's blood-stained garments, near Mulat where the main highway ends.

The trail of the outlaws started Wednesday night in Jacksonville, 40 miles away, when Patrolman H. V. Branch and Special Officer Wilber Blizard attempted to halt a car they recognized as having figures in a recent holdup of an ice plant here. Blizard was shot through the head. Branch was clubbed down.

The desperadoes headed west, exchanging automobiles frequently, on passing motorists and kidnapping a garage man and his son who later were released.

In their flight toward Pensacola they doubled back at intervals and eluded pursuit. Encountering a posse near Chipley an exchange of shots resulted in the critical wounding of Dan Brock, posseman and deputy sheriff, respectively. Malloy and Brock were taken to a hospital at Dothan, Ala.

ADVISES LEGAL ACTION ON EDUCATOR'S TERMS

Madison Wis. — (P)—The constitutionality of the law making four year terms apply to county superintendents now in office may be determined only through a proceeding to compel an election, the attorney general said today.

The 1929 legislature enacted a law making county superintendents' terms four years instead of two and the attorney general ruled that the law applied to superintendents in office at the present time. Because of this ruling, there will be no election of county superintendents on April 7.

Edward T. Vinopal, Jr., Mauston, district attorney of Juneau-co., is the latest official to challenge the constitutionality of the law as it pertains to present superintendents.

The attorney general, in his opinion to District Attorney Vinopal, said, in substance:

"Administrative officials must be guided by legislative acts until the courts determine the best unconstitutional. If a determination of the court is wanted it may be had by a proceeding to compel an election."

Under Article VI of the state constitution, county officers must be elected every two years. This precludes a county superintendent from holding office for four years, according to those who have challenged the law. The attorney general ruled, however, that county superintendents are not covered by this article because the office was not in existence when the constitution was written.

The attorney general ruled further that if county superintendents are outside of the provisions of Article VI their terms may be changed and their positions even made appointive.

BURNS TO DEATH WHILE RESTING ON DAVENPORT

Mrs. Thomas H. Ryan, 703 S. Alameda-dr., has gone to Manitowoc to be with her brother, Deway Cuthbert, whose wife was burned to death yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Cuthbert, a cripple, was resting on a davenport in her home when fire started by a sleeping pad. Whether she was unable to escape, because of her crippled condition, or whether she burned to death as she slept, has not been determined.

Death was due to suffocation as well as burns, a physician said. Her husband was not at home at the time of the fire. He formerly lived in Appleton.

Funeral services will be held at Manitowoc tomorrow morning.

Notice is hereby given that there will be a public hearing held at the Appleton State Bank March 10th at 10 P. M., to consider the following ordinance:

DALE ASSOCIATION SHIPS NEXT MONDAY

Shippers Reorganize to Compete With Invasion of Trucks

BY W. F. WINSEY
Dale—The Dale Cooperative Live-stock Shipping association expect to ship two carloads of livestock from the railway yards here next Monday.

Because the association was not bound together by signed contracts and many members had no way of hauling their cattle, hogs and calves to the Dale stockyards, the Dale association was forced to discontinue shipping last fall by a truck invasion of its territory.

On account of the high cost of the truck shipping of livestock and having no checks on weights, shrinkage, grades or destinations, the Dale farmers reorganized their association about three weeks ago and made the signed contract the foundation of their union. It is reported that 50 members already have signed the contract and that from 50 to 100 more farmers will soon do so.

One hundred and fifty members supporting their association together would mean the shipping of over 100 cars of livestock during the coming year and the fair prices and economies that come from the handling of a large volume of business.

The management has engaged trucks to haul livestock from the farms to the stockyards at Dale to serve members who have no trucks of their own. At the outset the charge for this service will be 10 cents per hundred pounds.

In case of a car being partially loaded with livestock at Roadfield, it may be sidetracked at Dale long enough to be filled at Dale with surplus animals while the livestock train waits.

MUCH INTEREST IN FIGHT OVER RATE ON COAL SHIPMENTS

Many Briefs on Matter Filed With Commission at Washington

BY RUBY A. BLACK
(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau)

Washington—The widespread interest in freight rate reductions on coal from southern Illinois to Wisconsin destinations, which are now under suspension for investigation by the Interstate Commerce commission, is manifested by the recent filing with the commission of six different briefs in one day.

The reduced rates, which would have applied from southern Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky to Beloit, Janesville, Burlington, Monroe, Portage and Fond du Lac, aroused a great storm of protest and the rates were suspended one day before they were to become effective. The present effective date is June 20, 1931. Under the rate reduction proposed by the I. C. C. in 1922, the railroads would have been required to lower rates from the Lake Michigan docks of Green Bay, Milwaukee, Sheboygan and Manitowoc if the rates from Illinois mines were lowered.

The railroads in an effort to avoid reducing rates from the docks, petitioned the Commission to alter its 1922 decision in the Lake Cargo Coal Case but this petition was denied.

Two of the six new briefs filed, those of the Wisconsin Paper and Pulp Manufacturers Traffic Association and the Illinois Coal Traffic bureau, seek the establishment of the reduced rates while the others ask their dismissal. Though they agree in their demands, the two petitioners in favor of the establishment of the rates apparently differ entirely in their views on the subject of the relationship between the reduced rates and the coal shipped into Wisconsin from the lake docks.

CLAIM NO ISSUE

The Wisconsin Paper and Pulp association maintains that the dock rates are not at issue in the present case and seems to take the attitude that the dock rates should be left to fend for themselves and possibly altered to meet the Illinois case at a later date but should certainly not be used in influencing the present decision. Of course the Paper and Pulp Association, representing great manufacturers of paper who use much coal, would want lower rates.

On the other hand, the Illinois Coal Traffic Bureau comes right out and boldly states that it is against any lowering of rates from the docks even if it would be prejudicial not to lower them.

The other petitioners, all of whom ask cancellation of the proposed reductions, are the railroads which would be affected by the reductions; the West Pennsylvania Coal Traffic Bureau, which represents mines which ship to the Wisconsin-Lake Michigan docks; the Youghiogheny and Ohio coal Co., Wisconsin Great Lakes Coal and Dock Co., the United Coal and Dock Co., and the Northern Western Fuel Co., all in one brief; and the Menominee Chamber of Commerce and the Central Western Coal Co. of Michigan.

The Menominee brief opposes the reductions but states that if they are allowed, the rates from the Wisconsin docks should be reduced and Menominee, Mich., should be included with the Wisconsin docks and the Commission-prescribed rate relationship extended to Menominee.

Many of the briefs state the fact that even if reductions are allowed, the dock rates must be reduced and Illinois therefore will not benefit while the railroads suffer great losses in revenue.

NEW STANDARD IS SET IN PERFECTING FLAVOR OF COFFEE

Roasting Process Used Exclusively by Hills Bros. Insures Uniformity

For years Hills Bros. have enjoyed a distinct advantage in the coffee roasting industry. For they have a patented roasting process that prevents variation in flavor.

The basic principle of the process is roasting in a little at a time. Automatically measured lots of rare blended coffees—about three pounds—are introduced into the roaster in a steady stream and pass along in a continuous flow, roasting a little at a time. The speed of the flow and degree of heat never vary with the roast that Hills Bros. Coffee is absolutely uniform.

No other coffee has the same delicious flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee because no other coffee is roasted the same way. This patented process—Controlled Roasting—is radically different from the common bulk-roasting method.

Freshness is assured in Hills Bros. Coffee because it is packed in vacuum cans. By this process, air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is removed from the cans and kept out. Ordinary cans, even if airtight, do not keep coffee fresh.

Grocers everywhere sell Hills Bros. Coffee. Ask for it by name and look for the Arab—the trade-mark—on the can.

Hills Bros. Coffee, Inc., Chicago, Illinois.

OPPOSES RENEWAL OF KTNT LICENSE

Examiner Says Public's Interests Subordinated to Licensee's

Washington—(P)—Ellis A. Yost, chief examiner of the Federal Radio commission, today recommended that the application of KTNT, Muscatine, Iowa, for renewal of license be denied.

The station, which is operated by Norman Baker, had applied for renewal of license. It had been extended from Jan. 31 pending decision by the commission. The action of the examiner is not final and must be passed upon by the commission.

Yost said the use heretofore made by Station KTNT of its frequency of 1170 kilocycles "does not warrant the further assignment of this frequency to applicant station." He contended KTNT was serving programs which subordinated the interests of the licensee. He said a license to operate a radio station was in the nature of a public franchise and should be used in the interest of the public and not for the personal interest of the owner.

"In the broadcasting of Station KTNT public interest, convenience and necessity have been made a mere adjunct to the personal business of the licensee," Yost said.

Bacteriologist Amazed by Vitalex

Ilin J. Munroe, F. R. B. A.

"My Study of Vitalex Formula Shows It Can Bring Health to Millions" says Ilin Munroe

"Every person has millions of deadly bacteria slowly destroying their system," says Ilin J. Munroe, who has been connected with the Department of Public Health in India, New Zealand and Australia, besides doing considerable bacteriological work in this country. "Vitalized Vitalex, through its alkaline reaction, helps destroy these bacteria and brings back a normal healthy condition."

Rheumatism Relieved

I have seen sufferers crippled and with backaches, hands tant from the deadly rheumatism bacteria, released from these pains of torment by Vitalized Vitalex, the medical discovery of the century.

Anemia Overcome-Pep Restored

by the use of Vitalex. Modern day living conditions have brought a great increase of anemic, tired out and rundown, nervous conditions, throughout the world, leading to premature old age and death. In my microscopic blood tests I have found the red blood corpuscle count restored to normal through the use of Vitalized Vitalex, thus bringing health bloom to sallow cheeks, new energy and pep to wornout men and women and real health and happiness.

Prominent Doctor Calls Vitalex "World's Best Health Formula"

Dr. Clements has carefully tested Vitalex in many, many cases and advises every rundown, tired out, constipated person to try Vitalex and see how quickly their outlook on life changes.

"You must be aware that the herbs in your preparation bring about a natural elimination of body poisons. I find that constipation vanishes when Vitalex is used, that the bile flow is increased and that the sluggish liver and congested kidney get back to normal functioning. With the elimination of these poisons go the pains and gas on the stomach, indigestion, biliousness, headaches, muddy complexion, foul breath and loss of ambition."

Raskob's "Home Rule" Suggestion Continues to Stir Up Leaders

Seeker of modification, took her turn at "jumping all over" the senator, accusing him of changing his position since Houston.

Exchange Charges
Back and forth was flung the charge that the two sides were giving aid and comfort to the Republicans.

Smith's speech, demanded from the floor, was somewhat of a quieting influence. "I am sorry to think that my old time traveling companion, and political sparring partner," he said turning to Robinson, "... is going off here today without an understanding of what was said by our chairman."

"No one has said anything about repeal. In fact, something was said against repeal. As far as the principles enunciated by Mr. Raskob are concerned, I want to say I never heard of them until today and I'm not sure that I'm for them all."

Finally, James M. Cox, 1920's presidential nominee, wound up with an appeal for a united front and for consideration of differences between north and south on prohibition.

In the end, with Raskob still insisting he would ask the next session of the committee—in December or January—to go on record on his plan the meeting broke up in smiles, with harmony the objective of all groups. But the lobby talk afterward ranged from expressions that disaster had been averted only narrowly, to assertions that the air had been cleared to the general good.

Prepare to Raise Fund
The session's final act was approval of a financial program to raise a total of $6,000,000, for liquidation of the present $600,000 debt, operation of the party headquarters until 1932 financing the presidential campaign of that year. It is to be raised by a commercial fund raising concern.

Raskob's liquor plan contemplated first of all retention of the eighteenth amendment, with the addition of a new constitutional clause giving each state the right to direct and control manufacture and sale of liquor within its borders.

A part of his plan was that ratification of the new amendment be by popular conventions and not legislatures of the states, and that each state going wet do so by referendum. The dry states would continue to receive full federal cooperation in enforcement.

His recommendations, however, went beyond liquor, advocating a clear-cut policy toward business and industry to obviate present uncertainty regarding the possible illegality of great combines; establishment of the five-day week without wage reduction, and removal of the tariff as far as possible from politics by creation of a life-tenure tariff commission, bipartisan in character.

Assailed By Robinson
The whole thing was condemned by Robinson. Its presentation now, held the Arkansan, paid back to President Hoover all "the aid rendered by him in his first two years of office to the Democratic party."

"You cannot write on the banner of the Democratic party," he shouted at Raskob, "the skull and crossbones emblematic of an outlawed trade and expect the party to accept your recommendations without resistance."

"I repudiate insofar as I am a member of the party can repudiate, the effort of the national chairman to submerge all other issues and to bring prominently to the front one about which he knows the Democrats entertain conflicting opinions. "When the chairman talks about modifying the anti-trust law so as to give big business absolute immunity, let it be recalled that under such a present rule our country has come to the worst situation in its history."

The committee's session opened in peace. The chairman's announcement he would not press for action on any resolutions cut down the tension. J. M. Shouse, chairman of the executive committee, forecast Democratic success two years hence. There was an assurance the committee

Stomach Troubles Headache and Dizziness

If your stomach is sick, you are sick all over. If you can't digest your food, you lose strength, get nervous and feel as tired when you get up as when you went to bed.

For 10 years Tanlac has restored to health and activity many thousands who suffered just as you do. Mr. Daniel Vinciguerra, of 6200 Stiles St., Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have not had a dizzy spell or a headache since taking Tanlac. My appetite has increased, my nerves are in better shape, and I can enjoy a good night's sleep."

Let Tanlac do for you what it did for this sufferer. It corrects the most obstinate digestive troubles—relieves gas, pains in the stomach and bowels. It restores appetite, vigor and sound sleep.

would not work for any individual candidate before the next convention.

Miss Face Issues
Among the remarks heard after it was all over were such as these: "I think it all will be productive of good because the party now realizes that these issues must be frankly faced and discussed," said Senator George of Georgia.

"The best Republican speech I ever heard," Senator Black of Alabama. "I think the fact that no resolution was adopted avoided a disaster," Harry Flood Byrd, ex-governor of Virginia and vice chairman of the committee.

"It appears as if there will be two definite groups coming out of it," Senator Hull of Tennessee.

"No harm was done. It's a good thing to talk it out," Senator Connally of Texas.

"I think it will work out all right," Norman Mack, committeeman from New York.

"It was the best thing that could happen for the party," Michael Igou, committee man from Illinois.

"As far as Texas is concerned there won't be any deserting of the party on this issue any more," Maury Hughes, of Dallas, Texas.

And Raskob concluded: "I think it can serve as something on which sentiment in the south can be more readily crystallized. Then the committee can take any action it sees fit in its own right to recommend to the national convention."

LEVITAN DEPLORES LACK OF DISCIPLINE

Fond du Lac —(AP)— The lack of self-discipline has been a contributing factor to present economic conditions, Solomon Levitan, state treasurer, said in an address before a father and son banquet here Thursday night.

"Economic conditions continue to require more and more self-reliance and self-control, and the child who gains his first lessons in self-discipline in the family circle will be the competent business man and woman of tomorrow," he said.

The speaker was of the opinion that one of the most vital questions of the day concerned the maintenance of "the sacredness of family life."

"If more of the parents realized the importance of those years when their children are small, our country would not be so crime-ridden today. Mutual helpfulness is the secret of happy family life, and it is the great need of today."

"The same elements that disrupt economic stability, tend to break down the morale of the home."

CHAIRMAN LEGGE RESIGNS
Chairman Alexander Legge of the federal farm board has decided to sell 35,000,000 bushels of the wheat which it has in storage in order to give elevator room for the incoming crop. This wheat is to be sold in foreign markets which are already surfeited with supplies at low prices. The government will lose thirty to forty cents per bushel, or between ten and fourteen million dollars on this deal. When the balance now held by the government is sold the loss will amount to quite a large sum.
The government had no compunction about maintaining a price of wheat above the market and passing this difference on to the farmer. Yet it was extremely loath to appropriate funds for free distribution in drought stricken areas. It seems a tough job trying to play both ends of such a game and for the very good reason that it is quite impossible.
Mr. Legge has advanced as the only satisfactory solution of the surplus crop problem that farmers must produce less wheat and cotton. He advises that some farmers quit farming so that the rest can make a profit of it. The trouble is that a farmer will not quit just to be a good fellow. Ordinarily the only thing that will make him quit is economic necessity. If he can't make a living at farming he must try something else.

The farmer has not taken kindly to the farm relief plan. When attention was called to their crop surpluses they discovered that relief was something which could not be delivered to them from Washington, but rather, was something that they themselves must create under Washington direction.
Chairman Legge has been on the job vainly attempting to work out the plan of farm relief. It is to be doubted if he ever believed he could by the present method. There is growing suspicion that the end is to be failure. Mr. Legge has resigned from the farm board and is to take up again the work of manufacturing machinery for the harvesting of these farmers' crops. It is doubtful if he will be able to induce his competitors to withdraw their harvesters from the market in order to give his company the inside track. And it is also doubtful if he will be so zealous in his efforts to curtail crop production.
Bucking the old law of supply and demand is not a profitable enterprise. Whoever tries it usually finds the short end of the horn showing up with surprising promptness ready for the farewell toot. The government, with all its resources, cannot do it. Chairman Legge passes back to private life and individual initiative with the good wishes of his many friends. When he buys his material he will probably be pretty well satisfied that his return will be more than he paid out.

NATIONAL ANTHEMS
A member of the British parliament suggested a few days ago in the house of commons that certain phrases of the national anthem should be changed as they were no longer appropriate to present day life.
Great Britain has a peppy little chancellor of the exchequer in Phillip Snowden. On many occasions he has surprised his contemporaries by sound and logical reasoning forcefully presented. He has a valuable asset—good common sense, an attribute strange to some other democratic parliaments which could be named.
On this particular occasion when the words of the British national anthem of "God Save the King" were being subjected to criticism, he was immediately on his feet with a scathing denunciation. The national anthem was to him a tradition and not a song. "Words do not matter, it is the tune that counts." It is the majestic strains of the music which inspires the soul.

What are words to a national anthem? Merely a device to wag the tongue. In the United States, as in Great Britain and most other countries, nobody knows more than a few lines of the first stanza.
When the "Star Spangled Banner" or the inspiring strains of "Dixie" are sung, the sound that emanates from our lips after a line or two is a lusty "da-da-de-dum," and one resumes his seat, sensible perhaps to a lack of knowledge of the words, yet full of patriotic fervor and national spirit.

DANGER TO CHEESE INDUSTRY

The Post-Crescent does not profess to know the merits on both sides of pending bills at Madison having to do with the moisture content in cheese manufactured in this state but it appears certain enough that the proposed bills should be subjected to the most minute and careful study and their possibly harmful effect upon industries which have recently come to this state and that bid fair to be of material assistance in the upbuilding and development of its resources, considered in the light of the complaints made.
The strongest bone in Wisconsin's vertebrae is the farm, and dairying has been an important if not the most important part of farming. It ought to be clear enough to anyone that if we drive these great manufacturing concerns out of the state we are driving them into other states where they will take the products at hand and that we are thus despoiling ourselves of a first-hand market.

These concerns are not alarmists. They have shown no inclination to ask for favors or advantages. They do understand their business which includes an appreciation of what the public demands concerning the form and condition of the cheese products brought to the table. They are national and international salesmen of our products. They employ our labor, use our buildings, pay our taxes, sell our products. The only proper attitude is not only one devoid of hostility but of the utmost friendliness, because they are our friends. Their objection to the assembly bill should be received and examined into by the light of helpfulness and with the thought of cooperation.

A NAPOLEON OF PEACE

Mahatma Gandhi, nearly toothless and about as naked, without a gun, a spear or even a darning needle, has brought the British empire to terms. Such is the vigor and the sublimity of public opinion clothed in righteousness and fortified with the strength of non-violence, a greater force Gandhi has demonstrated, than might.
To have thrown the gauntlet of battle down to Great Britain would have been fatal, the result only too plain and as quick. To appeal instead to instincts of fairness and justice, to talk quietly but firmly, to point out the claimed wrongs, to explain honest aspirations, to plead for help and cooperation, these have finally won the day and against bias and prejudice and that always supremely difficult thing to move, the set condition of affairs that have existed for generations and, in some respects, centuries.

Nor is Great Britain without honor in the resulting peace. It could have crushed Gandhi with a snap of the fingers, a curt and contemptuous order. It could have dispersed his followers in mangled, bloody fashion as a tempest sweeps out a fog. Heretofore it has put rebellion in India down in ruthless manner, but heretofore rebellions have offered violence. Here, there being no provocation by violence, Great Britain had no occasion to lose its temper, found no reason to use hard methods, investigated the complaint made, listened to reason and argument, and neither side having become frothy mad, they finally agreed.
It is quite impossible from this side of the earth to judge the merits fairly, but it is easy to see that there has just passed before us one of the most unusual struggles modern history, or perhaps all time, affords. And it has been concluded in an equally unusual manner, to the credit of those affected and as proof of the firm upward trend of civilization.

Today's Anniversary

E. B. BROWNING'S BIRTH
On March 6, 1806, Elizabeth Barrett Browning, English poet, was born in England. She early displayed great literary precocity, composing when about 11 an epic poem on the Battle of Marathon. When she was 20 her family moved to London where Miss Barrett established her reputation by the "Serafims" and other poems.
In 1845 she met Robert Browning, whose writings she had previously praised. A year later they were married against her father's wishes. Proceeding to Italy they made Florence their home and there in 1849 a son was born, Robert, who became known as an artist and poet.
The married life of these brilliant poets was singularly happy and their mutual influence is clearly seen in their verse. Mrs. Browning's "Sonnets From the Portuguese," which were in reality original compositions, written after her engagement to Browning, are unrivaled of their kind in the English language, as an expression of pure yet passionate love.

THE DEMOCRATS are going to attempt to raise six million bucks to return to power in 1932 . . . that's a lotta dough during depression time, maybe the best bet would be to get an appropriation from Congress . . . sure, it's a Republican administration, but there have been so many appropriations lately that Congress wouldn't know the difference . . . anyway Congress isn't working . . . and the Democrats said they weren't gonna talk about prohibition at their national committee meeting . . . they didn't talk . . . they yelled . . . and it looks like another civil war . . . the South is mad at Mr. Rankin who maintains that state's rights were most important in prohibition . . . and the first civil war was fought on just the opposite basis . . .

The guys who make our laws down at Madison are talking about postponing the auto license racket until May 1. Why the such and such, we hadda buy ours in January.

And why doesn't somebody do something about the roofs who come tearing out of side streets and across heavily-used ones without the slightest idea of where they're going?

Better run into 'em.

There's a definite chuckle to be had out of the page advertisements which the Saturday evening post is running in the Chicago Tribune. Those advertisements take a strong wallop at the weekly magazine owned by the Tribune interests.

The British took Lord Irwin from Canada and sent him down to India to fix up the civil disobedience troubles led by Mahatma Gandhi. He did what appears to be a good job. Now the people are obeying the laws.

Better borrow him for the United States. He could do more good than the Lickersham report.

The governor of the Bluegrass state has made Knute Rockne a Kentucky Colonel, suh. But it'll never work. Rock talks too fast and too loud.

And a coach just can't pose with a mint julep.

Speaking of the Chicago Tribune a few paragraphs back reminds us of the headline which that sheet carried the other day: "READS THE TRIBUNE AND IS NATURALIZED IN A FEW HOURS"

As the C. E. put it—"Yeah," reads the Post-Crescent and wins a college diploma in forty five minutes."

THIS NEW FREEDOM

They'd read the books, and so they said, "We'll keep our freedom when we wed, And come and go our whole lives through Exactly as we're pleased to do. You keep your whims and I'll keep mine, Come home or stay downtown to dine, Go where you will, with whom you choose, And thus our love will never lose."
This sounded well to Jim and Jane. The theory seemed safe and sane. But once the marriage vows were said, And found their sweetheart days had fled, And they were bound to go through life, Forevermore as man and wife, Miss Jenny Black was asked to write Her name as Mrs. Jimmy White.
Miss Jennie Black felt sure that she Would want her husband to be free, But Mrs. White began to find She'd had a curious change of mind. And when departed Jimmy White, She wanted him back home at night. She felt she had a right to know Just where it was he planned to go.
And what about that Lover Jim? Marriage a husband made of him, And thinking of a husband he Had thoughts of what a wife should be, And various whims and notions, too, Of what a good wife ought to do. The moral's simple to repeat: You cannot keep the cake you eat. (Copyright, 1931, Edgar A. Guest)

Personal Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

PHOTOGRAPHER'S HYPO FOR GAS POISONING

Sodium hyposulphite, the chemical commonly used by photographers, is a very good local remedy for the dermatitis of ivy poisoning. Those experienced in its use advise wet dressings or frequent bathing of the inflamed portions of skin with a solution of one ounce of sodium hyposulphite in a pint of water, or double that strength in some cases.

The same chemical, formerly called sodium thiosulphate, has been found a valuable remedy in cases of chronic arsenic poisoning. Here it is administered by injection into the vein, in very dilute solution, or it may be taken by mouth; it brings about the excretion of arsenic from the body thru the skin and kidneys. Moreover a clinical test in cases of suspected occupational or accidental arsenic poisoning involves the administration of a dose of this chemical by injection, and then the testing of the urine for arsenic. A minute trace of arsenic is normally present in the urine, arsenic being one of the elements normally present in the body; but if the patient is suffering from chronic arsenic poisoning, from too much arsenic from any source, the thiosulphate will produce a shower of arsenic, so that the chemical test shows more than can be considered normal in the urine.

Dr. W. H. Zelgler, professor of pharmacology in South Carolina medical college, has found sodium thiosulphate, administered by injection into a vein, a good remedy for the prolonged after-effects of carbon monoxide poisoning. This investigator used dogs, which develop much the same delayed symptoms as men do after a gassing with illuminating gas—mental disturbances, general weakness, skin eruptions. Besides administering intravenous injections of the hyposulphite of soda Dr. Zelgler gave the gassed dogs subcutaneous injections of calcium lactate, after they had recovered consciousness, and continued this for several days. Dogs so treated made good recoveries, compared with dogs similarly gassed and treated in ordinary ways. Dr. Zelgler therefore recommends that human victims of carbon monoxide or gas poisoning be given intravenously 5 c.c. of a 2 per cent solution of sodium thiosulphate for every 25 pounds of body weight. He cites recent studies of Kuhn and Reese who found that the administration of half as much again as that, in cases of metallic poisoning, was harmless over a period of 14 successive days. As a second step in the treatment Dr. Zelgler suggests an injection of 5 c.c. of a 4 per cent solution of calcium lactate for each 25 pounds of body weight, and after consciousness returns the patient should receive a daily dose of a gram (about 15 grains) of calcium lactate for several days.

When It Rains On Rheumatism In Erin.
My mother suffers from "rheumatism" as she calls it. Her fingers are stiff and she can't bend some of the joints. She spent last summer in Ireland and it rained seven-eighths of the time. She blames the dampness for her trouble? (Mrs. K. M.)
Answer—I can't speak for Ireland—don't they have handkerchiefs and everything there? Cold and dampness certainly makes people with chronic arthritis more uncomfortable. That is all it does. Send stamped envelope bearing your address and ask advice about arthritis.

The Tynmites

By Hal Cochran

Around Johannesburg they rode. The Tynmites made a jumpy load and kindly Mister Travel Man enjoyed their shouts of glee. Said he, "Say, Clowny, sing a song and let your voice ring out real strong. Then all the rest can join right in, but please don't call on me."
"All right," cried Clowny. "Here I go I'll hit the high notes and the low." And then he started singing, as their truck splashed in a rut: "Oh, how we skid and how we thump each time our old truck hits a bump. And how the engine hums along with merry putt, putt, putt." The others joined right in. You bet. And 'twas a very nice quartet. They made up all the crazy words just as they went along. They sang until they'd had enough. Each Tynmite began to puff. "That's great," exclaimed the Travel Man. "I liked your little song."
The truck went rolling o'er the ground and Scouty asked, "Where are we bound?" "To Kimberley, a town nearby," the Travel Man replied. "The roads are really rather rough, but we will be there soon enough. And when you see the place you will be glad you've had this ride." "We'll visit at a diamond mine. I'm sure that you will think that fine." And, sure enough, they reached the mine. "Was wonderful," said the mine. A man said they could look around and, my, what startling things they found. Said Scouty, "We are seeing things I never hoped to see."
They watched some native workers who were sifting gravel through and through to try and locate diamonds they had taken from the earth. A pile of gems was shown the crowd. To touch them they were not allowed. While eyeing them, wee Clowny cried, "Gee! Think how much they're worth."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

When It Rains On Rheumatism In Erin.

My mother suffers from "rheumatism" as she calls it. Her fingers are stiff and she can't bend some of the joints. She spent last summer in Ireland and it rained seven-eighths of the time. She blames the dampness for her trouble? (Mrs. K. M.)

Dangerous Friends.

I have a goitre. Could you tell me how to get rid of it. Some friends told me to rub it with iodine every night. Is this safe? (Miss H. B.)
Answer—That would be painful and dangerous. Do not tiff with it. Go to your doctor and follow his advice.

Misses and Maid.

Our little house maid had a dreadful pair of tonsils. She lost so much money by being too ill to work that she finally tried, at my suggestion (on your recommendation) the new diathermy treatment. When the doctor applied the local anesthetic pus just oozed out. One side is finished after about four treatments, and not a mark remains and she feels better already than she has before for months. She has not missed a day's work, tho the treatments make her throat feel quite sore for a day or two. Having had my own removed by the "old Spanish custom," spending five days in hospital and a week in bed at home, besides suffering untold agonies, the new way seems good to me. Sarah says the treatment does not hurt. She is eagerly looking forward to having the other tonsil fixed, as she calls it. She had some badly swollen joints, too, and this seems to have cleared up. Let me add a word of appreciation for the help and the fun I got from your column. (Mrs. F. C. O.)

Answer.—It often happens that the lady pays more and gets less than her servant does.

No Drops In Nose.

A nose and throat specialist offers this suggestion: "Mothers should not put drops in children's noses. There is a danger of washing infectious material back into the Eustachian tubes and setting up otitis media (middle ear inflammation). If any medication is to be applied it should be by means of nasal applicators or medicated wick left in the nostril for several minutes. From experience I believe not a few cases of mastoiditis are due to the use of drops in the nose."

Plans On Russia

There is one, "for instance," of which the writer has knowledge. It had to do with the Russian revolution and the plans of Marshal Foch for a military cordon around Russia, to keep what was termed the radicalism from straying afield. Foch had presented his plans to the "big four." Wilson was a bit skeptical. He called in his own supreme war staff representative—that famous old cavalry officer, General Bliss—and asked his views. And General Bliss in hard, blunt cavalry fashion, gave his opinion to the President.

He was completely against it.

Common Sense

If, the general said, there was a new idea in human relations behind the Russian turmoil, no number of bayonets would be able to check or destroy it. If there was no new idea, why worry about the Russian affair at all? It could not prevail, he contended.
The matter has been mentioned in memoirs and other publications since that time. But the text of this philosophical reasoning from the

A Bystander In Washington

Washington — Buried in the archives of the state department in Washington is an historical treasure which well might cause the mouth of any historian to water.

It is the detailed minutes and other data of the conversations at Paris at the time of the post-war peace conferences of the "big four"—Wilson, Lloyd George, Clemenceau and Sonnino.
It is doubtful whether these documents ever will be made public. Much of the American foreign correspondence in 1914-15 already has been printed by order of congress. Other volumes are to follow. But these reminders of the days of the "big four" deliberations will not be included.

Those were the days, probably, when President Wilson was beginning to discover that his ideal of "open covenants, openly arrived at" was an ideal only, and hardly applicable to the untangling of the more delicate problems of European diplomacy.
Even at this comparatively late date, there is doubtless material in those conversations which might quiet old clamors, were they to be made public.

It would take assent of the other three governments, as well as congressional action, to get them out to the light. Probably some day a movement will be started to have them made public.

For who knows what controversies of long standing might be settled, what misapprehensions be brushed away, if the world knew just what these great men had said to each other in those critical hours.

New York—Big Town marks: Steam escaping in plumes out of pavement manholes on a frosty morning.

The mulatto maid who has been demonstrating a folding day-bed in a Sixth avenue window for three years now.
Chin and Lee, wholesalers of chop suey.
The Sunday night audience at the Palace, mostly actors catching the opening of rival turns.
Elegant premises, like that which opened Charlie Chaplin's newest splurge of laughter and brought out some of The Best People.

Platinum Audience
High-hat premieres are relatively few, considering how typical they are, supposed to be of urban life.
Chaplin, however, is a darling of Manhattan's new smart set, which looks upon him as one of the few real artists Hollywood has produced. So the Chaplin opening was the occasion for such townsmen as Alexander Woolcott, George Jean Nathan, Harpo Marx, Tito Schipa, and Conde Nast putting on the tall silk bonnet.
It took four cops to escort America's pet clown down the aisle to his seat through the crush of ermine. And the assembled intelligentsia, literati and cognoscenti laughed as loudly as anybody on wiped away fugitive tears at pathetic points.
Scholar
Chaplin also has helped make the town voice conscious.
His refusal to speak words for his films or for the radio was almost immediately followed by the first radio broadcast from the Vatican, giving New Yorkers, along with the rest of the world, an opportunity to hear the pontifical voice.
And New York is such a curious place that one of the local scholars, who could translate every word of the Pope's Latin speech was a Fifth avenue headwaiter, Eugene of the St. Regis.
Eugene, it was learned afterward, has a past which he kept to himself. His full name is Eugene Leri, and he disclosed that he once was a judge in the papal court, the Rota. For 10 years Eugene's father was vicar-general of Rome, and Eugene was graduated from the University of Rome as a lawyer. He soon was a judge in the civil tribunal in Rome, from which he was called by Pope Pius X to the bench of the Rota.
Pigeon shooting in Monte Carlo, his sport at that time, gave him wanderlust. He left his ecclesiastical post and started out to see the world. After traveling over Europe, Russia, Siberia, China and Japan he landed in New York 2 years ago and took the first job that presented itself, that of waiter.

Skating rinks, says a news item, are to have colored ice. Will hockey teams henceforth win or lose by a shade?
"I, I had the wings of an angel" is the prisoner's song. It might also go as the pedestrian's.
A detective has become a film director in Hollywood. Leave it to him to know what goes on behind the scenes.
You have to step carefully, says the office sage, to make your foot-prints in the sands of time.
It's surprising how much red tape is necessary to budge an obsolete blue law.
It is the hope of every baseball manager, of course, to make jack-of-all trades.

Lips of a hard-boiled professional soldier would make highly interesting reading now.
At that time, either his opinion or something else served to squelch Foch's plan. It was never put into operation.
And there are other such incidents buried in this mass of data—many just as interesting and far-reaching.

Loans from Government

Washington—Every one of the 54 regional offices of the Veterans' Bureau has been supplied with cash to

BONUS CHANGE AT A GLANCE
The new soldiers' bonus law allows each veteran to borrow up to 50 per cent of the face value of his adjusted compensation certificate.
Those face values average about $1000 and range from $125 to $1550 depending on the length of war service and the extent to which it was spent overseas.
Veterans who have already borrowed can now get the difference between the amount of their existing loan and 50 per cent face value, less accumulated interest on the old loan. The interest rate is 4 1/2 per cent.
Nearly all bonus certificates are more than two years old. Those which are not do not possess any loan value until two years from the date of issuance.

handle applications for loans to veterans who by act of Congress may now borrow up to 50 per cent of the face value of their adjusted compensation certificates.

The procedure of borrowing on the new basis is quite simple. The machinery through which the Veterans' Bureau lent about $300,000,000 to veterans prior to the new law will take care of the increased loans, except that additional help is authorized for the various regional offices if the rush for money is sufficient to make it necessary.

The veteran who needs money first obtains the application blank for such a loan. This application blank is in the form of a one-year note, automatically renewable from year to year. It may be obtained from the nearest regional office of the Veterans' Bureau, but usually is as easily or more readily obtained from offices of the Red Cross or of veterans' organizations.

If the veteran borrowing is taking advantage of the loan privilege on his certificate for the first time he attaches the bonus certificate to the note, after filling that out and takes it or mails it to the nearest regional office. Ordinarily he will know just where to send note and certificate because that is the same regional office to which he originally applied for the certificate. Any regional office, however, will make a loan on any certificate which is held or which is presented to it.

The veteran who already has borrowed on his certificate has deposited his certificate with the regional office which advanced the loan. He must make his application to that particular regional office, attaching the pink slip which he received as receipt for the certificate and descriptive of the loan transaction.

Red Cross Aids Distressed.
Veterans who are in distress, in order to obtain preference in having their applications handled, should obtain certification of their need from one of the recognized service organizations or from the Red Cross.

The Veterans' Bureau suggests that it is better to apply for loans by mail and gives the assurance that needy cases will be given first call in the issuance of money. On the same day that the increased loan bill became a law by virtue of the Senate's passage over President Hoover's veto the bureau put $20,000,000 in the hands of its offices to answer the first call.

Some veterans made their original loans from banks. That means that they should now apply for any further loans to the Veterans' Bureau in Washington, because the bureau has had their certificates since it paid off the banks.

On Job Quickly
The Veterans' Bureau, within a few hours after the Senate acted, had mailed about a thousand checks to veterans in need who already had applied and had wired $17,500,000 to its regional offices to handle applications.

The note which the veteran signs promises repayment within one year from date of the loan check, plus interest, but it is provided that if principal and interest are not paid when the note matures the lender agrees to the automatic extension from year to year. Whatever such amount remains unpaid shall be deducted from the face value of the certificate upon payment at maturity or death.

Early in January we went to the foremost maker of fine furniture in Rockford. We told him the story of our February plans . . . and how we must have a $200 Rockford made bedroom suite to include in a period ensemble which we would sell for $129.00. "Cut your costs and margin of profit to the very minimum," we told this maker, "and to give Leath patrons the greatest value ever known in a Rockford made bedroom suite, we too will forego all thought of profit." He accepted our proposition and went to work. He delivered the first of these marvelous suites last week.

Even our experienced furniture buyers have never seen anything like it. "Rockford Cabinet Making at its Best," that's what you'll say when you see it! Frankness Is Best Policy For Children

BY ANGELO PATRI
"Oh mother, mother, what shall I do?"
"What is the matter child?"
"My head aches and my throat hurts and I'm so sick."
"Well, well, that's too bad. Mother will put you in bed and spray your throat and make your head comfortable. You'll be better in a little while. Be quiet as you can and mother will help you."

"But mother, grandmother told me that I was wicked because I did not mind her and now God won't listen to me when I ask Him to help me."

"Oh yes, He will. Come along now and never mind what anybody said. Just believe mother when she tells you that you are going to be all right in a little while."

"But grandma said—"
"Child, I don't care what she said. She didn't know what she was talking about. God would not treat a little girl like that. He loves little children. He will help you. Just keep right on asking Him and keep still inside yourself and wait. There now. You are all right. Just keep quiet. Close your eyes and rest."

Now grandmother heard what mother said and was angry. "Don't know what I'm talking about, don't I? Well, who does, I'd like to know." It is too bad when one has to say anything like that to a child but in the cause of truth, in all frankness, what else is one to do? To tell a sick child that God will punish her is not my idea of truth, nor of justice, nor of common sense. If anyone says anything so far removed from these ordinary qualities of everyday living, one must speak out and set the child right.

It won't do to ask children to accept everybody's word as the gospel. Too soon they discover our frailties. Too soon they begin to question and to doubt. Better meet their questions with frankness, better acknowledge that grown-ups make mistakes and trust the child to be tolerant and merciful to us. As all children are.

Teachers, parents, relatives, all grown people, are people. All people make mistakes. If we want children to respect us, if we want them to confide in us and trust us, we must be a bit frank with them. When somebody's judgment takes a holiday, acknowledge that too, and do what you can to make amends.

This attitude will not hurt the relationship between children and their parents and teachers and advisors. It will help it. It will bring children closer to us. It will bring them to confide in us more and distrust us less. The eyes of childhood and adolescence are clear. The judgment is sharp. The intelligence is keen. How can we expect to deceive the children and still hold their regard?

A certain respect and regard will always be shown age by youth, but it is as nothing compared to the overflowing affection and loyalty that it accorded those whom youth has found trustworthy. A bit of frankness between children and parents is a healthy thing.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, inclosing stamped addressed envelope for reply.

MRS. RISSE IS TREASURER OF AID SOCIETY

Mrs. Adolphe Risse was elected treasurer of the Ladies Aid society of St. Paul Lutheran church at the meeting Thursday afternoon at the school. She succeeds Mrs. John Pingle. A social hour followed the business meeting and a lunch was served to about 90 members. The Story of Sue

by MARGERY HALE
© 1929 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THERE was nothing for Sue to do but keep moving. While her passenger kept his appointment she could find a way, perhaps, to get in touch with Jack. She wondered if she was supposed to wait while the man went in.

The man was leaning forward and his face was reflected for a fleeting second in the mirror. Then he crumpled down into his collar. But in that second Sue got a glance at him.

It wasn't a man whom she was driving. It was a girl. And that girl was Sybil Lester!

Sue kept her hands on the wheel, tried to check her thoughts. She must find out what it was that Sybil was doing, why she had wanted Jack followed, whom she was meeting at the address she had given.

She located the street and number at last and Sybil got out. "Shall I wait, sir?" Sue asked quietly.

"Yes...I won't be long. Here." She thrust a bill into Sue's hand, and hurried away. Suddenly Sue remembered that she had forgotten to turn on the taximeter. She had been driving without it. In a minute Sybil Lester was back.

"Quick, have you got enough gas?" she asked. "I've got to get to a place 20 miles away from here in a hurry. There's someone whom I've got to get...before he—he takes a train."

Sybil had an accomplice, and perhaps he was stepping out on her. Sue reasoned. And Sybil did not know that the girl who was driving her was Sue Merrymann, the very person for whose sake she had set the scene of the trial.

Sue smiled grimly. The stakes were on the table, and the cards were in her hand. But she had to get out to Jack!

"We need gas," she lied to Sybil. "I'll stop. Then we can make time." While the attendant at the filling station was looking after the tank and testing the oil and water, Sue slipped inside, and ran to the telephone. She got Jack's club, but the wasn't there. She knew that it wouldn't help to leave a message. He wouldn't get it until too late.

She called her house and he had not come. This time she left a message with her mother, telling her not to worry, she had a clue. Then she ran back to the car.

The car bounced over the road. It started to rain and big drops splashed against the glass. A wind came up and moaned through the trees. The road grew slippery.

Sue had a queer sense of unreality. She and Sybil Lester were riding through the night together. But each was disguised. Sybil wore a man's suit. She herself had a yellow wig.

It was a cynical gesture that the fates had made. And it might be, Sue reflected, the only chance that this other errand of Sybil's had nothing to do with the missing money at the bank. But she knew that it did.

The car swayed a little. A tire had gone out.

Sue heard Sybil swear softly in her own voice, forgetting her role. Then she was in character again. "What are you going to do?" she asked.

"Change it," Sue said briefly. "I'll make your train for you." Inwardly she was reflecting that it was as important for her to make it as it was for Sybil. She needed the clue.

EXERCISE TO MAKE YOUR NECK MORE LOVELY

BY ALICIA HART

Everybody can't have that immortalized "swan-like neck," and it is probably a good thing—for everybody wouldn't look right with such a tall, slender base for the features. But practically everybody can have a neck that is a distinct asset. Beauty rests on one's neck more than is generally recognized.

The way you carry your head has much to do with the smoothness of your neck, the lack of double chins, and that freedom from sagging which many a young neck has because of faulty posture.

Never hold your neck stiffly. But do carry your breastbone high enough and your chin high enough so that your neck can have an easy but a correct position. Relaxing exercises are good for your neck.

Try letting your shoulders slump, bend your body until your hands hang limply and your head swings towards your knees. Keeping the body limp, and bent over, lift your head by pulling it by the hair with your right hand, then let it drop. It may be so flexed at first that it doesn't swing. But if you can finally get it so that it just drops and swings limply, then you have relaxed our neck and it will have a litheness to the way it carries your head.

The color and texture of your neck's skin is of utmost importance to beauty. Bleaching lotions should be used, where your neck is inclined to discoloration. Creams should be applied by pulling it by the hair with your right hand, then let it drop. It may be so flexed at first that it doesn't swing. But if you can finally get it so that it just drops and swings limply, then you have relaxed our neck and it will have a litheness to the way it carries your head.

Two kinds of blemishes disfigure many necks. Tiny warts or moles often appear which can and should be removed. These can be taken off by the electric needle by almost any beauty specialist, or your family physician will give you a prescription and directions for using acid on them. Don't do this unless you have specific directions as to what kind of acid to use and how.

The other blemishes are what are called liver spots—tiny dark brown spots. These often indicate a digestive ailment, and you should consult a physician. But often, too, they are caused by lack of sleep and lack of a balanced diet.

You should do your best to have a lovely neck. It is worth the trouble.

WE WOMEN

By Virginia Vance

Dear Miss Vance: I want to know whether you think a fiance has a right to monopolize his sweetheart's time? I am in love with the man I have promised to marry but I don't think he ought to be around all the time. I have plenty of plans to discuss with friends and I have a lot of things to do in the evenings and Joe, the man in the case thinks he must always be on hand. It gets tiresome, and I ask him why on earth he doesn't have more dates? He is hurt at my attitude but you can understand. I have plenty of girl friends who want to see me, and a lot of old boy friends whom I am still fond of. Can you tell me just how to convince Joe that he has the biggest place in my life, but that I don't want him all the time? GRACE.

Maybe you might convince Joe of all this, if you announced flatly that you weren't going to marry him at all. Seems to me you ought to make a speech to that effect before very long, since you're obviously headed for trouble if you marry this devoted young swain.

You see fiances have a curious habit of being unreasonably fond of seeing their sweethearts as regularly as possible. Maybe it's unwise of them. Maybe everybody would be happier if infatuated young men could learn to stay away from the objects of their affection. But human nature goes right on happening and nothing is going to prevent Joe from hanging around you and gazing at you with adoring eyes, since you have promised to marry him and he feels that you are more or less his.

There are a lot of girls who would really enjoy this constant attendance. As a matter of fact I don't seem to remember receiving many kicks from outraged fiances who were having too much of their men's time. But if you are one of these common-sense, practical young women who want marriage to be a business-like affair, you're certainly out of luck with anybody like Joe.

You'll never train him to be business-like and you'll only make him miserable if you try. He's obviously the nice old-fashioned lover who expects you to want to see him exclusively. And he won't ever understand about your girl friends and your old boy friends.

If you insist on seeing all these people he'll want to see them with you. And there you are. A lot of girls would like to be in your shoes but if you find the model doesn't suit, step out before it's too late.

Don't try these practical methods on a romantic youth who adores you. You'll hurt his feelings, and you might hurt his feelings. Take him or leave him. If you don't like his methods, you don't like him and that, I may add, is that.

G. V.: Of course, you can be happy. You're a very good chance of it. You love children and there is no reason in the world why you shouldn't be genuinely fond of your stepchild. Other women have managed to make step children love them—and you can do as well.

You are old enough not to feel the torments of jealousy which a young woman some times experiences upon marrying a widower. You are wise enough to know that the job is not an easy one, under the present circumstances. You have the right attitude toward it but you have listened too long to well-meaning friends who see only trouble and difficulty ahead.

There are a great many pleasant things to be said for your position you know. The man who has been married before does not expect quite so much from the second wife. He has grown used to compromises. He knows the difficulty of adjustments, and he is willing to be patient and kind.

If he's had any difficulty in his first matrimonial attempt he is twice as grateful for the happiness he gets from his second. Although he is very often a much better matrimonial risk than any other man, and you must remember some of these things when your friends are uttering gloomy predictions.

SUICIDE? MURDER? MIRACLE?

PARALYZED from that horrible accident! Never to walk again—I still burned with love for Olga—my sweet, young wife. And yet I was unable to appease that glow of hope in her eyes—hope that blazed with desire—the day she met Del Raigoon—unscrupulous matinee idol.

Helpless, I watched him play on her loving, innocent nature—biding his time till Olga no longer could resist him. How I suffered—prayed for her—raged with jealousy—and dropped to the drugs of despair.

That night—my revolver. "Good-bye, angel-heart," I whispered and—THEN! Out on the lawn—I saw Raigoon—take her—my wife—in his arms. "I can't let her live in that disgrace," I cried. Slowly I raised my revolver—carefully I took aim—and...

What did John do? In that awful climax, did he kill Olga to save her from disgrace with Raigoon? Or did he murder that cad—an act which would blacken him forever in the eyes of his wife—of society—of God?

What mighty miracle could have come to solve this pitiful tangle of helpless human destinies? You must read for yourself BECAUSE I LOVED MY WIFE—the true, heart-rending story of a man who wheeled his way through hell in an invalid's chair—and what he finally found at the very brink of oblivion.

Reilly Says Menasha Grossly Libelled By Prohibition Prober

BY RUBY A. BLACK (Post-Crescent Washington Correspondent)

Washington—Prohibition Investigator Frank Buckley's report on Menasha is "false and libelous," Rep. Michael K. Reilly of Fond du Lac told congress in an "extension of remarks" filed on the last day of the session.

The Democratic congressman stoutly defended Menasha, its morals, and its patriotism following the revelation in the Wickersham reports that Buckley had said it "housed a rough foreign element that creates a liquor, prostitution, and gambling market."

"This statement constitutes an infamous libel upon the fair name of Menasha and its citizenship," Rep. Reilly continued. "Menasha is a city of about 10,000 inhabitants. Its population is composed of about 60 per cent of German and Polish ancestry, and about 20 per cent of various other nationalities. It is a city of churches, of schools, and of thriving industry."

Patrol City

"While it is true that the ancestors of the great mass of her citizenship came from Germany and Poland, Menasha today is in no sense a foreign city; it is an American city, a patriotic city; and a city of deep religious and moral sentiment."

"During the World war, Menasha was 100 per cent American, giving freely of her youth and her wealth to the cause of country."

"I personally know hundreds of the citizens of Menasha, of all nationalities, and can testify to the high type of her citizenship."

"This report not only maligns a large element of the citizenship of Menasha, and of my district, but also of the citizenship of the whole country. Our citizens of German and Polish ancestry represent a very desirable and dependable part of our citizenship. These people are honest, industrious, frugal, religious, and law-abiding citizens of the Republic. They love their country, and they lavishly contribute from their funds for the upbuilding of churches and schools."

Many Wet Cities

"Menasha may be wet, and it is a fact; that situation exists in hundreds of other cities of our country, a large element of those cities are opposed to the attempt of the government to interfere with the social habits through national legislation, in which places national prohibition is largely a disregarded and unenforced law by common consent."

"I understand that this man Frank Buckley is no longer connected with any government bureau, which fact ought to constitute an occasion for congratulations on the part of the government and the people. He may have been an investigator, but he was not a trustful investigator; and when he reported to his government on conditions in Menasha, Wis., he did not tell the truth. He either allowed his pen to be influenced by his prejudices or he did not investigate the situation, and recorded in his report the views of others, who were prejudiced."

"I would be unworthy of representing in this body the people of my district if I did not repudiate and condemn as false and libelous the statements made by this prohibition investigator as to the character of the citizenship of Menasha."

Buckley, now practicing law in Washington, has stirred considerable controversy throughout the country by his reports. El Paso, Tex., is demanding an apology from him. He may have been a successful moral and a beautiful picture of Maine, the first prohibition state, however.

LIBRARY BOARD PICKS NAME FOR CHILDREN'S ROOM

Addition Is Named in Honor of Lucy Lee Pleasants, First Librarian

Menasha—The new Menasha library children's room will be called the Lucy Lee Pleasants Memorial room in honor of Menasha's first librarian, it was decided at a special meeting of the Menasha library board Thursday evening.

The resolution adopted by library officials states that Miss Pleasants called a public meeting of Menasha citizens on Nov. 19, 1895, which resulted in the establishment of the Menasha library, and that she was the first librarian, serving from the time the library occupied a small upstairs room in one of Menasha's business places until her failing health, years later, forced her to relinquish her duties.

Serving at first without pay and later for a small compensation, Miss Pleasants' work was largely responsible for the phenomenal growth of the library, the resolution stated. After the library building was presented to the city by Ellsha D. Smith, it was Miss Pleasants' dream that a children's room be built at the southeast corner of the building, a project for which sufficient resources could not be raised during her life time.

With the children's room completed a fitting recognition of Miss Pleasants' services will be made. An engraved tablet, dedicating the room to the memory of Miss Pleasants will be placed in the new quarters, and her portrait hung in a conspicuous place, the board decided.

In addition to the dedication, routine business was transacted and an order placed for a number of chairs for the library basement.

A 626 series, bowled by E. Leopold helped the Billie to victory in two out of three games with the crack Hendy Recreation squad, and the Rippl Grocers scored a triple win over the Banta publishers.

The Schlitz Brothers aggregation took three straight games from the Shell Oils and Del Mayev's 613 series helped the Anderson cage bowlers to win in two out of three games with the Schmitzer Red Tops. The Gilbert Papers won two out of three games with Stroll's Five; the Menasha Hotel team won two out of three tilts from the Clothes Shop aggregation; Acker's Nite Hawks won two out of three from the Marathon Mills team, and the Fahrback Agency "dropped" two out of three games to Kenny's Thirsty Five.

Your Birthday

If March 7th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m. and from 7:30 p. m. to 9:45 p. m. The danger periods are from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. and from 5:30 p. m. to 7:10 p. m.

March 7th will probably bring you some financial benefit from outside sources. In other respects, the day is not one of very good augury, and jealousy and misunderstanding are liable to cause rifts and disagreements, even with those nearest and dearest to you.

A child born in this March 7th will be temperamental, and its youth must be surrounded with watchful care. Hastiness and impatience will accentuate evils that tenderness and affection will eradicate. This child will be more suitable for professional, than for commercial, pursuits.

You, if born on March 7th, learned at a very early age that the best way of getting up in the world is to get down to your job. Regardless of your early environment, you have always been anxious to rise, and keep rising. Allied to this creditable ambition, you have a great ability for work, a great liking for an active life, and an unquestionable desire, above all things, to be true to yourself and to your ideals. You have never considered any worth beneath you, and tackle any job entrusted to you with the best that is in you.

In your effort to outstrip others, you have denied yourself many pleasures and, as the years roll by, you will find it very difficult to grow old gracefully. You are never happy, working, and you make no provision for the overhaul that every human engine needs. Herein lies your chief danger, and if you could curb, at times, your voracious appetite for labor, you would live longer. You try to put too much of accomplishment into too brief a space of time.

Away from your duties, you are not very companionable, and this is felt more strongly in your home than elsewhere. You lack all sympathy for all those not cast in an iron mould, and cannot appreciate the value of emotion, although you are more than careful in doing what you consider to be your duty.

RUM RUNNERS DUMP FORTUNE INTO WATERS

Sink Many Ships Carrying
Thousands of Dollars Worth of Liquor.

BY LEMUEL F. PARTON
Copyright, 1931, By Const. Press
New York—(CFA)—It is quite possible that the rum-runners put more into the sea than they get out of their customers. The loss of the rum ship John Manning, sunk with nearly $500,000 worth of liquor on board, turns attention to New York harbor as the repository of countless millions in abandoned booze.

The John Manning was a "mother ship," three-masted schooner with auxiliary power, home outside the 12-mile limit. Customs officials said a distress signal in code from the foundering ship had summoned a British freighter which landed the crew of 12 at Barnegat, New Jersey. The John Manning's manifest showed that she had cleared from St. Pierre, with 7,000 cases of liquor.

Barely a week passes at New York harbor or New London, Conn., without a heavy condemnation of illicit wet goods sinking to the bottom of the sea. As the coast guard boats take the chase, the boats are sometimes set on fire; sometimes they are sunk and still more frequently the booze is dropped with a heavy sinker, into the sea.

Considerable Waste
Many times the annual subscriptions to the American Red Cross is heaved into the drink at New York harbor alone in less than a year.

Burnings and scuttlings of the rum boats are commonplace of the news. On Feb. 9 the Ewscray sank with 800 sacks of liquor aboard. A week earlier, the crew of La Esperanza opened the ship's coxles and sank her with 300 sacks. An unidentified boat sank off Staten Island Feb. 25. The sloop Elsie went down off Staten Island Dec. 22 last.

It is all in the day's work—or rather, in the night's work, for it is in the dark of the moon, usually during the last quarter, that the "rummies" try to slip into port, according to Captain H. Wolf, commandant of the coast guard.

The rum fleet is now working almost entirely from St. Pierre and Miquelon, the French islands off the southern coast of Newfoundland. Canadian liquor is shipped thence, with legal manifest and entry, and then trans-shipped to the Atlantic seaboard. It is estimated that the operating syndicate has resources of at least $50,000,000. It operates about 150 ships.

Loaf Outside Limit
These ships include supply ships, like the John Manning, which can loaf for weeks outside the 12-mile limit, waiting to discharge a load. Water and provisions may be taken to them openly by smaller attendant ships. The landing boats are oil burning vessels with screw propellers, usually from 60 to 90 feet long and capable of high speed. These boats, like the Bear Cat and the Tamagouche, operate openly in this maritime tag game, chased by fast coast guard boats, such as the Travis and the Tiger. It is a ceaseless encounter, with a large share of the stakes going to Davy Jones' locker.

Word along New York's embankments is that since the start of hard times and unemployment, the "rummies" have been cutting sea-men's wages. The big supply ships, taking little risk as they do not cross the line, pay little if any more than the standard wage. They have no difficulty, it is said, in getting unemployed men almost at their own price.

Kaukauna—The fire department was called out about 7 o'clock Thursday evening to the home of Charles Rabideau to extinguish a chimney fire. It was put out without damage.

PRICES OF GASOLINE REDUCED TWO CENTS

Kaukauna—Gasoline prices were reduced at local filling stations Friday morning, according to local service station operators. A number of stations are featuring seven gallons of gasoline for a dollar. This is the lowest gasoline has been selling for in some time.

Wisconsin Girl Made Happy

MANY times a child has everything to make her happy and still is dissatisfied. This may not be the youngster's fault. Often it is due to a condition easily corrected.

Take the experience of Mrs. R. Owens, 931 Forty-Fifth Street, Milwaukee, who says: "Nothing seemed to please Helen. She was fretful, feverish, suffered a lot from colds. She was constipated."

"We saw California Fig Syrup advertised and got some. It relieved her trouble promptly; made her bright and happy again. We have used it for three years."

Mothers by thousands praise this pure vegetable product. Children love it. Doctors recommend it to relieve constipation, feverishness, fretfulness, headaches; to open the bowels in colds or children's ailments.

Appetite is increased by the use of California Fig Syrup; breath is sweetened; coated tongue is cleared; digestion and assimilation are aided; weak bowels and stomach are strengthened.

For your protection, the genuine always bears the name California.

EXPECT NAVIGATION TO OPEN IN MONTH

No Trouble from Flood Waters Anticipated Next Spring

Kaukauna—Navigation on the Fox river is not expected to open for another month, according to Ben Prugh, head of the Fox River Navigation company. Final repairs are being made on the company boats and barges.

No trouble is expected to be experienced next spring with flood waters. Little snow this winter will keep the water from rising as usual each spring with the thaws and rains. Sometimes boats were unable to operate for several weeks after navigation was officially opened on account of high water.

The navigation company owns and operates two tugs with a number of barges on the river. The tugs haul coal from Green Bay to points along the Fox river to Lake Winnebago. The boats were docked in Kaukauna during the winter, and a crew of about 25 men was kept busy repairing the barges and overhauling the tugs. Most of the work was completed this week. Cooke and Brown of Green Bay and the government also operate boats on the river.

STUDENTS START WORK ON DECLAMATIONS

Kaukauna — A number of high school students have started work on orations and declamations under the direction of Miss Cecelia Calry, head of the forensic department, in anticipation of the school speaking contests which will be held soon. Winners in oratory and declamatory contests will represent the school in the sub-league contests of the Oshkosh district.

KAUKAUNA PERSONALS
Kaukauna—Mrs. Antone Berkens, who has confined at a hospital at Green Bay for an operation, has returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Graf.

Miss Loraine DeBue left Friday for Green Bay where she will spend the weekend with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lehmig of Milwaukee visited in Kaukauna Thursday.

ONE OF THEM
MRS. NAGGER: It says here in the paper that there are six million slaves in the world today.

HUBBY: Huh! No one can tell me there aren't more married men than that!—Pathfinder.

Now I always keep a jar on hand, and am glad to pass along a good word for Resinol."

Friday's Games
East Green Bay at Manitowish.
Manitowish at West Green Bay.
Manitowish at Appleton.
Fond du Lac at Oshkosh.

APPLETON high school basketball team will play its last game before the home folks tonight when it battles the Sheboygan team at the Armory G floor. The game will begin at 8:15 and will be preceded by a preliminary featuring two high school teams.

The Chairs are another of the teams the Orange have defeated this season, the victory coming in the battle of the Eggs at Sheboygan several weeks ago. On that occasion the Chair defense gave the Orange much trouble and only two baskets were scored, both early in the first quarter. The remainder of the evening was spent tossing free throws.

Since the first meeting, of the chairs the defense to have lost their strong defense and with the passing of Matt Rosenblum their offense also lacks early season power. However, Coach Joseph Shields of the highs is not letting his squad think Friday's encounter will be a "pipe" and has worked the boys as hard, this week as any other.

Mortell May Not Start
Reports Thursday were that Emmet Mortell, one half of the Orange's sterling defense is ill with a cold and may not be able to play. If he does get into the game chances are that he will be weakened and may need relief to enable him to give his best. Other members of the Orange squad, however, are reported in good health and ready for the final battle.

Friday's Collins probably will start tonight's game at forward, the latter getting the nod because he is playing his last game before the home folks. Collins is the only senior on the squad. Robert Rule will be reserve forward.

Bill Peotter seems to be the choice for center again this evening and Joe Verrier will be at one guard with Mortell at the other if he is fit. Frank Murphy may get into the game as a guard, while Bobbie Rule another possibility.

Another game that will interest Appleton fans is the Oshkosh-Fond du Lac game scheduled for Oshkosh. The Cardinals are given an even chance of beating the Sawdust city team and because of the natural rivalry a great battle is expected. Oshkosh won the first game between the two clubs at Fond du Lac by a mere point. Fondy was ousted from the league last week by a 20-10 defeat at Appleton, Y.

The two other valley conference games scheduled for tonight are Marquette at West Green Bay with the outcome a toss-up and East Green Bay at Manitowish. The Red Devils look good but the Shipbuilders from an even chance to win it "Butch" Kohls is able to push the team along.

TOM HEENEY FIGHTS CHARLIE RETZLAFF

New Zealander Will Be Trial Horse for Minneapolis Heavyweight

Detroit — (P)—Old Tom Heenev, victor of the "short count" in his most recent fight with a youngster, will enter the ring at Olympia arena tonight for ten rounds of boxing with Charley Retzlaff, confident young heavyweight from Duluth, Minn.

Heenev will be the trial horse tonight, with Retzlaff anxious to follow up his impressive victory over Johnny Risko, of Cleveland, in the same ring a month ago, and gain some recognition as one of the contenders for the crown. Retzlaff is expected to weigh in at about 193 pounds, with the New Zealander weighing around 265. At Day, who referees for recreation, will be the third man in the ring.

In the ten round semi-final Johnny Jadick, Philadelphia lightweight who lasted 15 seconds against Ray Miller's left hook, will box Ray Collins, of Erie, Pa.

Advance ticket sales indicated a close to capacity crowd of 16,000 will see the show.

FONDY JUNIOR H-Y TEAM TO PLAY HERE

Fond du Lac Junior H-Y basketball team will invade Appleton, Y. C. A. gymnasium Saturday afternoon for a game with the Sophomore club. The game is the second of the afternoon's sport program. The first will feature the Marquette and S.O.S. team in an elimination playoff game. The first game will start at 1:15.

Carroll College Prexy Announces Revision Of Pioneer Sports Program

Grid Card Cut to Six Games; Play Two Games With Lawrence

WAUKESHA — President William A. Ganfield of Carroll college Thursday announced the appointment of Vince Batha, M. A., to the position of athletic director, and at the same time stated the Pioneer's football schedule for 1931 would be curtailed to six games, including a home and home date with Lawrence college of Appleton, Wis. Mr. Batha, a graduate of Carroll college with the class of 1921, is in charge of the physics department of the college and for the last seven years has been assistant coach of football and basketball and head track coach. He will retain his position on the college faculty, taking charge of lectures in physics classes in the morning and coaching intercollegiate sports in the afternoon.

Training Camp Notes

S. T. PETERSBURG, Fla. — (P)—Babe Ruth plays first base during the early season practice games instead of occupying the right field, his customary post, with the New York Yankees. He believes the bending and stretching necessary to get the often wild batters from the other infielders helps him in the task of bringing his waist line down to its mid-season proportions.

San Antonio, Tex. — (P)—Ed Roush, New York Giant outfielder who has been holding out since before the start of the 1930 season, has been reinstated but the team is still doubtful. The champ is well supplied with good outfielders and there is some idea that Roush may be a trifle rusty after a season's layoff.

New Orleans — (P)—Three rookie hurlers will get a chance to see what they can do when the Cleveland Indians plunge into their exhibition wars with the New Orleans Pelicans tomorrow. Lefty Lee, Belvo Bean and Roxie Lawson will have the honor of pitching the Tribe's first game.

Tampa, Fla. — (P)—Dan Howley, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, has left his boys in on the news. He told them the experts were picking them to finish last in the flag chase this year and added:

"That's okay with me and it should be with you. It's up to us to let the experts know by playing good, fighting ball, and I know you can do it."

Avalon, Cal. — (P)—Manager Rogers Hornsby today planned to put a final polish on the Chicago Cubs before turning them loose in their first exhibition games, a pair of contests with the Los Angeles Pacific coast league club tomorrow and Sunday.

The Cubs behaved as of yore yesterday, the regulars scoring five runs in the ninth inning to pull a contest with the irregulars out of the fire, 9 to 6.

San Antonio, Tex. — (P)—The first base and shortstop problems still are annoying. Manager Donie Bush of the Chicago White Sox, but his worries over Al Thomas apparently are ended.

Thomas, counted on for a sizeable number of pitching victories last season, was bothered by an arm injury, that made him almost useless. He cut loose yesterday, had all his stuff and suffered no discomfort from the once ailing wing.

Pensacola, Fla. — (P)—The Red Sox are indulging in batting practice with a vengeance and Manager Shano Collins says he'll let them "hit until they fall over."

The veterans are going to take the mound today in the scrub game for three innings apiece and the hitters will be up against some real pitching. The veterans of the mound corps showed up in fine style yesterday.

Paso Robles, Ca. — (P)—Pirate training-camp news: Pitcher Steve Swetonic is en route to Pittsburgh for an operation on an injured arm, infielder Bill Regan is nursing a wrenched ankle, pitcher Kramer is injured foot mending, outfielders P. W. and Comorosky are recovering from illness, catcher Jack Mealy's sore toe is much improved.

The remainder of the squad is practicing.

Clearwater, Fla. — (P)—Wilbert Robinson, Brooklyn manager, is well pleased with the early season pitching of Jack Quinn, the venerable spitballer. "Quinn ought to help us get away to a fast start," Robinson commented after seeing Quinn breeze through three good innings.

Bradenton, Fla. — (P)—The new National league baseball will travel just as far as the old one, Gabby Street, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, is convinced. Gabby tried both balls out in a fun-hitting test yesterday.

Most of the Cardinals will leave today for Miami, where tomorrow they will play Connie Mack's Athletics in an exhibition game.

Fort Myers, Fla. — (P)—Reports, officially unconfirmed, but accepted here generally as true, were heard at the Philadelphia Athletics training camp today that Manager Connie Mack had signed Jimmy Foss, slugging first baseman and Mickey Cochran, star catcher, to three year contracts. There was no intimation as to the financial terms.

ERNIE KATH WINS FROM CHIEF MILLER

Ernie Kath, Sheboygan, was given the nod over Chief Ira Miller, Menasha, in a professional boxing bout between the two at Oshkosh last night. Both boys fought in Appleton back in the days when they were amateurs.

Fans who saw the bout were not entirely pleased with the verdict claiming the Chief was having things pretty much his own way with Kath during the last couple rounds.

Oshkosh — (P)—Johnny Lombardo, Milwaukee, 122, put a quick end to the top bout on a professional card last night by knocking out his opponent, Battling Hill, Chicago, in a minute and a half.

In the semi-windup, Tiny Habel, Oshkosh, won the decision in a six round bout with Al Kubiac, Green Bay. Kubiac went down twice for counts of nine.

TUFFY GRIFFITHS AND LEVINSKY SHOW FOR CHICAGO FIGHT FANS

Battle Is Grudge Affair Because Two Fighters Are Chicagoans

BY CHARLES DUNKLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO — (P)—Gerald Ambrose Griffiths, the tough one from Sioux City, Ia., will meet that devastating puncher, King Levinsky, the ex-fish peddler, in a ten round battle at the Chicago Stadium tonight that promises to attract an attendance of 19,000, one of the biggest attendances of the indoor season, with receipts at $65,000.

The battle is a grudge affair, not because they have met before, but because they are Chicago favorites, and each resents the popularity of the other. Griffiths today was a 7 to 5 favorite because of his greater experience and boxing superiority.

He outpunched Levinsky, except in sheer punching ability. He is faster than the King Fish, and a better boxer both offensively and defensively.

Levinsky A Clown
Levinsky, a clownish fighter, is by far the superior puncher. He recently knocked out Jack Gagnon in three rounds after the Boston card had knocked out Griffiths in Philadelphia. Griffiths, however, came back to defeat Gagnon in a ten round contest.

Under the terms of the match, Levinsky will be paid 60 per cent of the receipts, out of which he will be obliged to pay a flat guarantee of $25,000 to Griffiths. This is by far the largest purse the young Iowa has earned with his fists.

There will be little difference in the card when Griffiths and Levinsky meet. Griffiths expects to tip the beam at 137 pounds, under the King Fish scaling 133.

The semi-final, a ten rounder, in which Battling Bozo, the comical fist fighter from Birmingham, Ala., will meet Lou Scozza, the hard punching light heavyweight from Buffalo, has also stirred up considerable interest.

NATE LEWIS NAMED DIRECTOR OF STADIUM

Chicago — (P)—Nate Lewis, the old hand of boxing, has capped his 30 years of connection with the sport today by becoming a member of the board of directors of the Chicago Stadium corporation, for which he is a matchmaker.

During his three decades of association with boxing Lewis has acted as promoter, manager and finally as matchmaker. Among the fighters he has managed were Charlie White, a contender for the lightweight title, Kid Herman and Pat Moore.

Mid-West Colleges Await North Central's Report

BY FRANCIS J. POWERS
Copyright 1931

CHICAGO — (CPA)—Numerous mid-western colleges are awaiting with interest and perhaps some trepidation the report of the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges at its annual meeting, here, two weeks hence. The North Central has been investigating the conduct of athletics at many colleges and its findings are expected to carry some explosive matter.

The North Central association was organized primarily, the writer is told, to establish similar and higher scholastic standards among its members. Its membership has become widespread and recently the association has been delving into athletic problems.

North Central Investigators have been scurrying throughout the middle west for the past month, or more, and have paid visits to several members of the Western conference. Among the investigators is C. W. Whitten who as president of the National High School association succeeded in breaking up the University of Chicago's national basketball tournament that had been going for years.

Big Ten Protest
It is hinted that the Western conference is prepared to repel any attacks against its members that the North Central association may launch. The Big Ten has its own organization for conducting athletics and athletic investigation and does not feel the stirring need for any outside assistance. A similar sentiment also is developing in the Big Six conference of the Missouri valley, according to rumors from that sector.

Expulsion or suspension from the North Central Association carries with it a loss of scholastic standing and students from an institution so punished are unable to transfer or do graduate work in other colleges. Obviously the Western conference, comprising the ten outstanding universities of the near middle west, will stand for no such business.

Some of the North Central investigators patently approached their tasks opposed to football. One football coach reports having been asked this question by a North Central operative:

"Seriously, now, don't you think football has gone far enough? Don't you think your school would have been better off if it did not have a football team?"

Investigate Not Condemn
The coach replied that the investigator was there to secure information and not to condemn. Whereupon he was dismissed with the observation that he "was the product of the system."

The North Central may be able to dictate athletic policies to some of the athletic conference within its ranks—of which there are more than 30—but it likely will find itself bucking organized opposition if it attempts to carry any reform program into the Big Ten or Big Six. Both the Western conference and Big Six have recently completed jobs of house-cleaning in a thorough manner and outsiders cannot improve on the task.

However, the North Central report will be awaited with the same interest that preceded the famous Carnegie foundation bulletin.

TWO MORE BOUTS ARE ARRANGED FOR NEXT AMATEUR FIGHT CARD

Thompson Meets Adolph Ebel; Taurig Draws Lyman Thomas, Green Bay

HERBIE THOMPSON versus Adolph Ebel and Zep Taurig versus Lyman Thomas are two more of the cards arranged for the next amateur fight program to be sponsored by Oney Johnston post of the American Legion at Armory G. Thursday night. Announcement that the boys had been signed was made Friday morning by Matchmaker H. W. Miller of the legion.

Thompson and Ebel will step into the ring weighing about 142 pounds and will be meeting for the first time. Thompson has been taking on weight fast during the last couple weeks and weighed 137 pounds for his last appearance here, a condition that was reached only by prolonged drying out.

Herbie will be making his only appearance in the ring since he battled here four weeks ago and should be in good condition. Ebel showed against Billy Hundertmark at Green Bay Monday night and lost by a technical K. O. when he refused to continue in the fourth round after being given a draw for the first three when most people, Ebel included, were of the opinion he had won easily.

Zep Taurig will be remembered as the youngster who put up a fast scrap here last month with a Chicago fighter, the two standing in the corner and exchanging leather like a couple longshoremen. His opponent is from Green Bay and reported to be a comer. He showed at the Bay Monday evening and won the nod in a whirlwind battle. The boys will weigh in at 122 pounds.

The Thompson-Ebel fight and the Taurig-Thomas fight mean that half of Thursday's program is complete. The card will be headlined by Billy Hundertmark, Green Bay, and Hans Ahl, Oshkosh. The two boys are very well known in the valley and have fought here before. Hans copped a decision from Billy one evening last spring in one of the best shows ever put on here.

"Y" VOLLEYBALLERS AT OSHKOSH MEET

Appleton "Y. M. C. A." volleyball team known as the "A" team will compete in a tournament at Oshkosh Saturday night, showing teams from Appleton, Oshkosh and Fond du Lac. The tourney is one of the series being held by volleyball teams in the valley. A game for the local association "B" team for Saturday to be played here, is being planned by W. R. Ryan, physical director of the association.

MARQUETTE CLOSES CAGE SEASON TONIGHT

Milwaukee — (P)—Marquette University cages close their season here tonight with a game at the Auditorium against the Irish from Notre Dame. The Hoosiers go on the floor as favorites to win.

STETSON

Chicago — (P)—Nate Lewis, the old hand of boxing, has capped his 30 years of connection with the sport today by becoming a member of the board of directors of the Chicago Stadium corporation, for which he is a matchmaker.

During his three decades of association with boxing Lewis has acted as promoter, manager and finally as matchmaker. Among the fighters he has managed were Charlie White, a contender for the lightweight title, Kid Herman and Pat Moore.

BOB ZUPPKE ENTERS PAINTINGS IN EXHIBIT

Chicago — (P)—Robert C. Zuppke, the artist, otherwise Bob Zuppke, University of Illinois football coach, has entered two paintings in the ninth annual exhibition of the Chicago no-jury society of artists, which opens Saturday.

Detroit Tigers Are Sold On Their California Camp

BY JOHN B. FOSTER
Copyright 1931
ACRAMENTO, CALIF.—(CPA)—If this trip of the Detroit team is a success they are coming back to California. They have shaken the sand of Florida from their feet. It is no more expensive for them to come to California than it is to go to Florida and they have better training quarters this year than they have had in four.

A better diamond does not exist in the east than this and there is not one as good in Florida. Thus far they have had nothing but sunshine and fresh vegetables, California grown. The noon heat of Sacramento toasts the side of brown bread and the players have perspired until they have lost their flabbiness and are becoming like nails. The members of the team who were first out this way, had a special course of training at a place called Richardson's Springs and to hear the boys tell about it, there is nothing like it in the United States. They call it the best all around, specially provided by nature with healing waters, resort, they ever visited not excepting those famous pools of the east which cure everything to which baseball is heir.

The team is voting unanimously in favor of California and if one or two more American league teams that are threatening to come here should decide to do so in 1932, this will become an American league state. If those who are thinking of a change do not make application early all of the most desirable spots will be taken up. California is coming strong to the front after Florida has held the lead for so long.

Started Late Last Spring
"We haven't been able to get a spring start for three years," said the Detroit manager. "We dropped so hard in the spring of 1930, that everybody lost track of the fact that we won 77 games later. It is a fine thing to win 77 games, but if you win them after the fourth of July and are in the second division, buried like cabbage for the winter, it doesn't get you anywhere with the public and the only good that the manager can extract from it is to think what he can do for the next year to bring about that result which is so dear to him. If this city and climate have us luck in 1931, we will come back until luck changes."

"The lord gave me plenty," said Dale Alexander as he propped his massiveness against a grapefruit. "They laid out the plans for a battleship when they launched my model, but I am down and I shall be down farther when the big race begins. I'll bet you that we have a faster inning by ten per cent than we had last season, and ten per cent is a lot."

With only a smattering of breakfast he went to the ball field to conquer the throws that the old timers and the rookies were shooting to him, and he swung around first base with more ease than he has since he has been a big leaguer. He shows that winter work did not hurt him.

Managers of rival teams say the Detroiters are not out with a good pitching staff. Detroit players don't believe it. They figure Hoyt as a sure winner this year because he is in prime condition, Whitehill as the best left hander in the American league because Jean Dubuc has been searching him to throw a slow ball, Hogset as an old steady, Uhl good for 15 games, and Detroit sure to finish in the first division. It is not a sure thing that the team may not make "the first" division this year. It may be just ready to climb over the fence. Joe Dugan says he is always on a first division team and here he is with Detroit.

Gabrielson of Cornell is named as a forward berth with Johnson, Ripon's uncanny shot at the other position. Johnson ordinarily plays center but his efforts with the ball make him so deadly a shot he can easily be placed at forward.

Monmouth's two guards, Robinson and Cornsni, have been picked for the guard positions. Both men are veterans, fast, and deadly on the offense and hard men to fool when they're stopping an attack.

The championship Carleton quintet placed three men on the mythical squad, Perrin, a forward, Crawford, a center and Nielsen, a guard. The remaining member of the team is O'Connor of Cornell, a guard.

Perrin, Nielsen and Crawford have been members of the Carleton quintet for several years and were most instrumental in the team's winning its fourth straight Midwest title under direction of Marshall Diebold, former Wisconsin cage star.

The second team picked by the Lawrence manager shows another Viking, Ken Laird, at center. "Goose" as he has been dubbed by his mates has been a cager for three years but this season under constant work showed his best. He turned in some splendid guarding against men who were considered hard to watch. He also got into the scoring column whenever the opportunity arose.

CARNERA WINS REFEREE'S NOD OVER MALONEY

Good Advantage and Beats Boston Youth

BY ALAN GOULD

Miami, Fla. — (AP) — The mystery of just how good Primo Carnera is as a heavyweight fighter was not much nearer solution today as a result of the financially unsuccessful battle of the Cracked Rib.

Nevertheless, the ponderous puncher from Italy, as a result of gaining the referee's decision over Jimmy Maloney of Boston in ten rounds last night, moved in the general direction of a championship match later this year with the winner of the Stribling-Schmeling title contest.

They had everything but a stretcher in Carnera's corner. But not a doctor or a hypodermic needle was put into action. The huge, wild-swinging Italian alternately lumbered and danced, grinned and winced through ten rounds.

Has Effective Left
Carnera had an effective left hand. He staggered Maloney in the first, second and eighth rounds. He showed no inclination or ability to use his right at all, except as a blocking instrument. For the most part he was out footed, outboxed and outfought.

Referee Elmer (Slim) McClelland of Detroit showed no hesitation in lifting Carnera's glove in token of victory, basing his decision on Primo's aggressiveness and more effective punching when the blows connected.

The crowd of perhaps 20,000 spectators, occupying less than two-fifths of the Madison Square Garden Stadium, booed violently with the verdict and remained for fully 15 minutes to boo lustily. This sympathetic reaction for Maloney, outweighed 73 pounds, was shared only partially in the press rows.

The Associated Press scoresheet credited Maloney with five rounds and Carnera only three, with two others even. Scoring unofficially, Milwaukee Boxing commission judges favored Maloney on two sides of the ring but the majority of critics agreed with the official verdict.

Beaten to Maloney
Carnera got even for the decision he lost to Maloney in Boston late last year. He did so despite the handicap of a fractured rib, testified to by a big plaster of adhesive bandage, and an obvious lack of boxing condition.

Carnera manifested gameness but little skill. He seemed able to "take it." His tremendous advantages in weight, height and reach were assets that Jimmy found difficult to offset. Maloney's best punch was a left to the body. He weighted 193½ to Carnera's 273.

There were no knockdowns. Maloney was wrestled to the floor in the second round in a wild mixup but rolled up without a count, Frisco, backing off for a stiff poke to the stomach in the fourth, slipped to his knees but got up, grinned, gestured apology to the crowd and shook hands with Maloney.

Promoter Frank J. Bruen, on a gate estimated at $70,000, faced a loss of possibly $30,000. He had figured $100,000 was necessary to break even.

The preliminaries were featured by a one-punch knockout victory for Milwaukee — (AP) — Harry Ebbets, blond Freeport, N. Y., fighter, easily outboxed and out-punched Talt Littman, Cudahy, to win the judges' decision in their 10-round bout here last night.

From the start, Littman seemed unwilling to enter the fight and apparently was contented to be on his feet when the going sounded.

He was credited with winning but one round—the second. Ebbets carried seven and two were regarded as even. Littman almost constantly sought to clinch and was warned several times about holding. Ebbets forced the fight all of the way.

The New Yorker weighed 168 pounds; Littman, 164½.

Herb King, 166½, Marinette, slugged his way to a victory over Eddie Oester, Milwaukee, 160½. The referee stopped the fight in the second to save the Milwaukeean from sleeping on the canvas.

BIG 10 DIRECTORS MEET AT MADISON

Will Discuss Action of North
Central Group to Control
Sports

Chicago — (AP) — Athletic directors of ten western conference universities today had for consideration at their annual meeting, plans of battle in their fight to keep the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, from assuming control of the Big Ten's athletic problems.

The meeting was scheduled for Madison, where the annual Big Ten indoor track championships will be decided tonight and tomorrow night. Major John L. Griffith, Big Ten athletic commissioner, was down to address the directors on the problem that confronts them.

Major Griffith has outlined his stand asking:

"Looking ahead 25 years, will it be better to have conference athletics administered by a small homogeneous group made up of institutions of similar size and similar academic and athletic standards, or by a large organization, with a heterogeneous membership, some of the members of which are opposed to the large university type of athletics."

Milwaukee — (AP) — Fritz Crisler, athletic director at the University of Minnesota, said in an interview last night that he sees "no imminent break between the Western conference and the North Central association of colleges."

Miami, Fla. — Primo Carnera, Italy, outpointed Jimmy Maloney, Boston, world light heavyweight champion, outpointed Marty Gallagher, Washington, D. C. (8), non-title; Jimmy Braddock, Jersey City, knocked out Jack Roper, California (1).

Milwaukee — Harry Ebbets, Brooklyn, N. Y., outpointed Talt Littman, Cudahy, (10).

Providence, R. I. — Salvatore Ruggirello, Italy, knocked out Jose Santa, Portugal (2).

Short Sports

Superior — (AP) — The Superior State Teachers college basketball team plays Hamline of St. Paul here Saturday night in a benefit game. The Yellow Jackets, under suspension from the teachers college conference, hope to raise money enough to enter the national amateur championship tournament at Kansas City. The team has a record of winning 16 out of 17 games this season.

Milwaukee — (AP) — The Milwaukee teachers swung out on a two-day road trip to wind up their basketball season. The Peds play River Falls tonight and Eau Claire Saturday night.

Sheboygan — (AP) — A meeting is scheduled here tonight to form Sheboygan's entry into the Lake Shore baseball league. Two Rivers, Manitowish, Green Bay and Kewaunee already have teams in training in the circuit.

ROBBERY NOW HELD MOTIVE FOR SLAYING

Unsolved Mysteries Cited to Back Theory in Gordon Murder

New York (AP)—Robbery! That word continues to weave its way into all the fantastic theories surrounding the strangling of Vivian Gordon in Van Cortlandt park a week ago.

Nor is this the only celebrated murder case in which the police and private investigators have ultimately written "robbery" after the public has been treated to strange and glittering pictures of sinister crime in high and low places.

Such unsolved murders as those of James Elwell, the bridge expert; of Dorothy King, the "Broadway butterfly"; of Louise Lawson, an actress with light habits; and of the victims of the almost incredible Edna Mills case, have been marked with the robbery motive in the annals of criminologists.

"It was learned on the highest authority," says a late newspaper account of the Gordon investigation, "that robbery has been definitely accepted, at least by the police, as the most logical motive for the crime, and that the theory of death to silence a dangerous tongue has virtually passed into the discard."

Arthur A. Gavey, former deputy inspector in charge of the homicide bureau of the New York police department, who had a hand in the investigation of New York murders for a third of a century, unhesitatingly says that robbery was the motive in the Elwell, King and Lawson murders.

Sensational Mystery

Elwell was found dying from a pistol wound in his home in W. Seventy-seventh-st on June 11, 1920. The case became one of New York's most widely exploited murder mysteries. A melodrama of huge proportions was built around this unsolved crime.

But listen to Mr. Carey: "The slayer of Elwell, in my opinion, was an invader, most likely a type of thief known as an unoccupied house-worker or possibly a letter thief."

Two "glamorous background" murders which always have been associated in the public mind were those of Dorothy King, who was found dead in her studio apartment in W. Fifty-seventh-st on March 29, 1928, and of Louise Lawson, whose body was discovered by her Negro maid in another studio apartment in W. Seventy-seventh-st on the morning of Feb. 2, 1924, less than a year later.

In each case there was built up a picturesque and romantic criminal background. But Mr. Carey again supplies the word "robbery."

"Dorothy King probably was slain by a professional thief or thieves," he says, "possibly by a gigolo type of thief. The crude manner in which chloroform was administered is typical of thieves." A similar picture is given of the Lawson case.

"These conclusions have not been arrived at arbitrarily," says Mr. Carey. "They have been built up by the pattern process in almost the same manner that a physician arrives at a diagnosis of a patient's illness by the use of case precedent."

Edmund Pearson, who has made a study of many famous American murder cases, reaches similar conclusions after studying the Hall-Mills murders of 1922. The tremendous drama which was woven out of the fabric of this case, had no bearing on the murders, he believes, and the trial was a cruel waste.

While Inspector Carey had no part in the Hall-Mills investigation, he also sees the "pattern" as that of robbery. The criminal he believes, was a "bushwhacker," one who "slays wantonly as a prelude or aftermath to robbery."

"This fact," he says in his reminiscences, "I consider of utmost importance: The minister's watch, chain and wallet were missing, indicating robbery. And the woman's throat was cut. The bushwhacker frequently wields a knife. I am inclined to think that the woman, true to her sex, screamed, and her assailant cut her throat to silence her; that the minister charged at her attacker and was killed."

It Is Said--

That when a county officer has a birthday it is usually a gala occasion at the courthouse. At least it was Wednesday when Undersheriff Edward Lutz celebrated the anniversary of his birth—his twenty-first, so he claims. Several of the boys at the sheriff's office managed to get Eddie on the floor where they succeeded, in good old-fashioned style, to provide a "wallop for every year" with a yard stick. Mrs. Lappen, however, was indignant Thursday because Eddie hadn't let her know about the birthday. She said she wanted to do her part by providing a birthday cake.

That a certain little black kitten has officially adopted the Appleton police department as her future headquarters. At least the kitten invaded the department sometime last night and at the latest report this morning was sleeping peacefully in the sunlight on the window sill. However, that isn't her favorite resting place. The best one, in the cat's opinion and much to Sergeant Earl Vandebogart's annoyance, is the cushion on the chair occupied by the sergeant. Every time Sergeant Vandebogart left his seat, the cat stealthily bounded over to the chair. This penchant, however, may cost a certain black kitten a good home.

That for some reason or other a junk dealer must have a more unspectacular past than any other type of businessman. The list of questions in the proposed junk ordinance, which an applicant for a license must answer, include: Have you ever committed a felony, or been convicted of a misdemeanor? Are you married or single? How long have you lived in Appleton? Where were you previously employed?

It was pointed out at the council meeting Wednesday night that the city had no more right to ask those questions of a prospective junk dealer than of a milk man, soft drink parlor proprietor, or anyone else to whom licenses are granted.

START CLASSES IN FOREMAN TRAINING

Marion Smith to Train Men in Four Appleton Industrial Plants

Foremanship training classes to be taught by Marion Smith, foreman trainer with headquarters at Appleton vocational school, will open Friday at four local industrial firms. They are Appleton Coated Paper company, Riverside Pulp and Paper mill, Appleton Toy and Furniture company and Appleton Chair company. Classes will meet twice a week on Mondays and Fridays, according to H. G. Noyes, itinerant state coordinator, who helped organize the circuit. On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of each week until June 1, Mr. Smith also will teach foreman classes at Eau Claire, Rhineland, Mosinee, and other cities in the western part of the state. The reported hog population of Louisiana is only one-third the amount of pork residents of the state are expected to consume in 1931.

BAR ASSOCIATION TO MEET MONDAY

The Outagamie County Bar association will meet at 5:30 Monday afternoon at Hotel Northern. The business meeting will be preceded by a dinner. Routine business matters will be transacted, according to Miss Patricia Ryan, secretary.

DRAMATIC READER TO APPEAR HERE

Maude Scheerer to Present
"Skingame" at Chapel on March 9

Maude Scheerer, one of the country's foremost dramatic readers and impersonators, will present the English drama, "Skingame", by John Galsworthy, at Lawrence Memorial chapel at 8:15 Monday evening. "Skingame" is considered one of the best plays in many seasons and is one of the presentations in which Miss Scheerer excels.

Miss Scheerer, who presents a program similar to that of Correllia Otis Skinner, who appeared on the artist series here this winter, is on a tour of the United States. She has appeared in practically every large city from coast to coast. While passing through Appleton last fall Miss Scheerer presented "Trifles" and parts of "Green Pastures", one of the most popular plays in the country this season, as part of a convocation program at Lawrence college and thoroughly pleased the student body. Dramatic critics throughout the country are pleased with Miss Scheerer's work. The New York Sun said: "Her high class acting and mastery of technique was most impressive and her program, which covered a wide range of character drawing and emotional display disclosed her great versatility."

THE MAIN QUESTION
PRISON VISITOR: Why are you here, my poor man?
CONVICT: For theft in a hotel.
VISITOR: Were you the proprietor or just an employee?—Pages Bales, Yverdon.

$5,393,565 IS VALUE OF GUARD'S PROPERTY

Madison—(AP)—The value of federal government property assigned to organizations of the Wisconsin National Guard totals $5,393,565.00, according to an inventory taken by the state adjutant general's department.

Inventories conducted in 32 organizations showed the average money value shortage per organization was only $31.20 which, the adjutant general's staff declares, shows that organization commanders are exercising careful supervision over the issue and care of federal property.

CO-OP GROUPS MAY NOW SELL ETHYL GASOLINE

Madison—(AP)—Cooperative oil companies in Wisconsin may now sell ethyl gasoline as a result of action taken by the commissioners of the state department of agriculture and markets.

At a recent hearing with Ethyl Gasoline Corporation, New York, R. M. Orchard, counsel for the department of agriculture and markets, informed company officials that refusal to sell ethyl gasoline to cooperative companies constituted violation of the unfair trade practice statute.

"This statute has teeth and as a result ethyl gasoline is now being bought and re-sold by three cooperatives and several others will be handling the product in the near future," Mr. Orchard said.

Department officials hailed the action as a victory for the cooperative movement in the state.

ARREST 95 IN STATE FOR DRY LAW OFFENSES

Madison—(AP)—Federal prohibition officers with headquarters here arrested 95 persons in the western prohibition district of Wisconsin last month, according to Ray J. Nye, deputy administrator.

The officers seized seven automobiles, and destroyed 14 stills, 1,302 gallons of beer, 311 gallons of spirits, 78 gallons of wine and more than 17,000 gallons of mash.

U. S. NOW HAS 150 NATIONAL FORESTS

Washington—(AP)—The total number of national forests was brought to 150 when President Hoover proclaimed the Hiawatha national forest in the heart of the Upper Michigan Peninsula. The new forests has a gross area of 279,071 acres. The number of acres in all national forests now totals more than 160,000,000.

By Percival Christopher Wren Author of MYSTERIOUS WAVE

BEAU GESTE
BEAU IDEAL

SYNOPSIS: The shadow of his criminal life in America falls on Dr. Charters when a stranger invades his English nursing home and demands that the doctor give him asylum and an alibi on a possible murder charge. The alternative threatened is the revelation of Charters' criminal past, a checkered career of kidnapping and major thievery. When his mysterious caller tells him that "Spider Schiltz has got his," the doctor's memory goes back to his flight from America with Spider's and Chink Dorson's shares of the St. Clair diamond haul, engineered together. Out of this evil past also has come Maude, his "evil genius," now married to Mr. Lauderdale, whose pretty niece, not yet 21, is strangely ill in the nursing home, complaining that the medicine she takes makes her condition worse. At first denying he knows any of the underworld characters his visitor names, Charters finally drops his bluff, while protesting the intrusion.

Chapter 4
MYSTERIOUS WAVE
THE law doesn't allow me to have any mad person here," replied Dr. Charters, tonelessly, and with expressionless face. "No? Well, all that's your trouble, Simmy, not mine. You must have me here under observation, then, but mind I don't get mad with you, Simon."

"And what about the nurses, pray?" asked the Doctor. "How can I possibly pretend that you've been here a week?"
"I leave all that to you, Simon. Do you think I'm such a fool as not to suppose that at least one of your 'nurses' is—er—reliable, shall we say? Who's 'Frisco Fanny' by the way? Do you know, I fancy there must be one or two nurses who would be quite sure I'd been here a week if you told them so. The Sister-in-charge perhaps, eh? She'd remember my coming in the Station at, say, ten o'clock, a week ago this morning. You've always had such a way with the girls—even from the old Missen days, Simon."

"If you've done something against the law, and have left a trail that will bring Scotland Yard here after you, it would be perfectly impossible for me to pretend you've been here a week, even if I wished to do so," began Dr. Charters.
"Your trouble, Simmy, as I said before, I should worry!" interrupted the madman. "And if they pinch me, in spite of your utmost efforts—unless you can prove that I don't know a thing about what I'm doing, you're for it."

"All very interesting indeed," temporized the Doctor, eying the stranger coldly.
"I gather that you wish to enter the Nursing-Home as a mental patient: that you wish it to be supposed that you've already been here for a week; that you wish to be kept under observation; treated for mental trouble and, more particularly, for delusions; and if possible cured."

"You've said it all, Simmy," grinned the visitor.
"Well, suppose, for a start, you cure yourself—of the curious delusion that my name is Sim, Simmy or Simon."

"What is your real name, Doctor?"
"Er—I am Doctor Theodore Charters, M. D., London University, as you may see by reference to the Medical Register. Who, by the way, are you?"
"Me? Oh, I'm—er—Mr. John Wayne."
"I don't remember the name."
"No, Doctor Theodore Charters. You don't remember the name, I'm sure. But you're going to. You're going to remember it as long as you live—and a bit longer perhaps."

Sez Hugh:

(Copyright, 1931, By Frederick A. Stokes Co.)
Dr. Charters may lose his white elephant, he tells Wayne, who tomorrow discovers the Monastery's like a jail.
WHEN A DRINK ISN'T Berlin—Since a tax of 10 per cent has been placed on liquid refreshments, many confectioners have resorted to clever schemes. One is to supply a customer with a lemon and a glass of water. The customer makes his own lemonade, and thus avoids the paying of the tax. Another is the serving of "chocolate soup" in place of hot chocolate drinks. The "soup" comes on a plate and is eaten with a spoon.

PLANS OUTLINED FOR LEGION CONVENTION

Boyd — (4) — General Chairman
For L. Brecke last night outlined plans concerning the state American Legion convention to be held at Chippewa Falls, August 16-19. Speaking at a meeting here, attended by legionnaires of Chippewa County, Brecke said 20 committees with memberships totaling 177 legionnaires already were at work on arrangements for the meeting. "The convention," he said, "represents four units of the American Legion—the Forty and Eight—the Legion auxiliary, the Eight and Forty and the Legion. Our convention at Chippewa Falls will be open to the public to give citizens a more comprehensive view of the ideals and aims for which the American Legion stands." Brecke said about 2,500 delegates and visitors were expected to attend. Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, secretary of War Hurler and Will Rogers are among the speakers to appear at the meeting. Tennessee roads are being marked in characters 14 feet high for the information of aviators.

BEARS LEAD IN SCRAP TO GAIN MART CONTROL

Trading Degenerates Into a "Knock-down-drag-out" Tussle

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER Associated Press Financial Editor

New York—(AP)—Trading in the stock market degenerated into a knock-down-and-drag-out battle between the bulls and bears today, with bears appearing to have a decided edge for the moment.

The market advanced a point or two in the early trading, dropped about 1 to 1.5 in the middle of the day, then recovered 1 to 4 in the early afternoon, only to start down again. During the decline, pool support appeared to have been temporarily withdrawn from some of the recent spectacular risers, and some of the high priced issues were subjected to concentrated bear selling.

The early upturn represented a continuance of the bullish activity in the utilities and steel. Auburn, however, dropped steadily during the morning, getting down almost 15 points. It recovered 4, and again declined. Mullins, which had surged up violently of late, fell back more than 7. Allied Chemical dropped about 4 points, recovered, and again turned downward. Several shares lost 3 to 6, although many recovered a point or two later. They included American Telephone, Westinghouse Electric, Eastman, Macy, Case and Western Union. U. S. Steel and American Can lost about 1 and 2 points, then recovered.

The crop of adverse dividend announcement this week smoothed the way for the bears, although virtually all of the reductions or omissions have been expected in Wall Street for some time. Omission of the payments on American Rolling mill common and Postal Telegraph preferred were among the latest.

Selling of Auburn, which had surged up from a January low of 10 1/2 to a recent peak of 21 1/2, was presumably in part a response of speculation of an unconfirmed report that the state bureau of securities was inquiring into the action of the stock. Mullins, which lost a sizable fraction of its recent peak of 35, had an even more spectacular rise, starting from a January low of 8 1/2.

The bulls were heavily sold in response to the latest declines in mid-continent crude prices, and presumably in anticipation of more drastic cuts in oil prices. News that Secretary of Commerce Lamont had obtained cooperation from the Gulf and Standard Oil Co. in an effort to regulate imports was mildly favorable, although oil circles felt that the situation was still too confused to offer tangible encouragement, several of the socialists and independents were disappointed that congress failed to act to restrict imports.

Call money was firm at 1 1/2 per cent, after yesterday's late rise to 2.

START DRIVE TO GET JOBS FOR NEEDY MEN

Knights of Columbus Com- mittee Enlists Aid of AN Members

All of the 450 members of the Father Fitzmaurice council, No. 607, Appleton Knights of Columbus, will cooperate in a program for the relief of unemployment which has been instituted by a special committee of 21 members.

The campaign, which was active-ly launched this week, will be in cooperation with a nationwide drive by Knights of Columbus, under the leadership of the national employment service, which has headquarters at Washington, D. C. Peter W. Collins, former industrial expert with the United States government, is heading the nationwide program in cooperation with President Hoover's program for the relief of unemployment.

Men Want Work
"What men want is work, not money," says the letter which every member of the order is receiving. The letter asks the cooperation of each individual. "Our task is to bring the man and the job together," the letter continues. "To do this the committee must have a list of unemployed men and a list of people who have jobs to give. The committee will then serve as a clearing house to bring the unemployed and the prospective employer together."

"A general revival of business is needed. No matter how minor the job to be done or the goods to be purchased, have the job done or make the purchase now, if you contemplate doing it soon."

"Why delay? Every little bit will mean work and business for someone. We must get the wheels of industry and business turning again. Start pushing now. Every little effort will help. If you intend having papering done in your home or place of business, if you contemplate repairs in your home, store or plant, if you intend building this spring or summer, if you intend purchasing wearing apparel, something to beautify your home, do it now! No matter what you intend to buy in the near future—do it now!

Early Action Sought

"Remember you will save money by acting now. Business men should analyze and study their businesses and see if some adjustments and developments cannot be undertaken at once to help the unemployed. If business will stand extension, if greatest sales activity can be developed, if business can be gone after more strongly, if more business can be created, it should be done now. Every additional man or woman put to work will help just that much and will increase to that extent the purchasing power of the public."

Along with the letters the council members received several bulletins from the national unemployment service, pointing out the aims of the groups and ways in which each individual can help.

Each member also is receiving blanks on which he can list the names of unemployed men, together with facts about their circumstances. On these blanks, also is space for listing the type of work which the member has to be done and the amount of time and number of people he can employ.

Kotex comfort lasts

because Kotex absorbs
away from the surface

YOU want more than mere surface comfort in sanitary protection, and Kotex gives you more. It absorbs away from the surface, leaving the protective edges dry and comfortable during use.

Kotex may be worn on either side, with the very same protection, because both sides are equally absorbent. No danger of embarrassment from wrong adjustment.

There's a delicate, fleecy softness about Kotex. What a comfort during warmer days when this problem is more difficult than usual. Hospitals specify Kotex for the protection and comfort of their women patients. It is disposable, you know, quickly and easily. Once you try Kotex, no other way will satisfy you again.
